Would Ground Pan American World Airways

NEW YORK (AP)—The Transport Workers Union agreed today to an hour-to-hour postponement of a strike that would ground Pan American World Airways, the nation's largest international airline.

A union leader said at 11:50 a.m. that the noon strike deadline was being extended because of progress in contract negotiations with the airline.

The union's 13,000 members had been poised to strike at noon if contract terms had not been reached by then.

The union spokesman said progress at the morning bargaining sessions, during which union and management representatives met separately, prompted the union to put off the strike "on an hour by hour basis."

As the announcement was made, officials of the National Mediation Board were conferring with top union officials.

Reportedly, the federal mediators were presenting a new company position to the union negotiating team.

The AFL-CIO union represents 13,000 of the airline's 31,300 employees at terminals here and abroad. A strike by the mechanics, truck drivers, maintenance men, pursers and stewardesses would ground all of Pan Am's 360 daily flights.

It was reported that military flights to the far east and Viet Nam would be exempted from the strike.

Earlier today, a union negotiator, who did not identify himself, said Pan Am had made a new offer to the union.

Coast Guard Presses Hunt For Crewmen

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — With 20 bodies found, the Coast Guard today pressed its search for eight missing but almost certainly dead crewmen of the Daniel J. Morrell as a board of inquiry planned an investigation of some puzzling aspects of the tragedy.

In the worst Great Lakes disaster in eight years, the 603-foot ore carrier split apart and went to the bottom of Lake Huron early Tuesday during a gale that concealed her fate for 34 hours.

There was one survivor, Dennis Hale, 26, a deck watchman from Ashtabula, Ohio. Hale was asleep in his bunk when awakened by the battering that ripped the 12,500-ton Morrell in two.

Hale will be the only eyewitness before the board of inquiry appointed Thursday by Adm. Willard J. Smith, the Coast Guard commandant in Washington.

Rear Adm. Charles Tighe, commander of the Coast Guard 9th District with headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio, recommended the inquiry and was appointed to head the five-man board.

Such an investigation is reserved for major marine disasters. The board is expected to convene in Cleveland Monday.

Among the puzzling aspects of the tragedy were these:

—The Coast Guard reported receiving no distress signal from the Morrell, which sank about two hours after it sent a routine message stating its position in the storm-lashed waters.

—Why did the 60-year-old Morrell go down when its sister ship, the E.Z. Townsend, also 60 years old, rode out the same storm in the same general area?

—Near-freezing temperatures continued over the lake as hope dwindled that any of the missing would be found alive.

Unaccounted for were two of the Morrell's lifeboats.

"If the men had gotten into one of those boats, they could still be alive, floating around out there someplace," said Lt. Kenneth Cutler, Coast Guard rescue coordination officer at Cleveland. "We admit it's only a strand of hope and very improbable."

Wilson And Smith Meet In Last Bid

LONDON (AP) — On a British warship steaming through heavy seas in the Strait of Gibraltar, Britain's Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Rhodesia's Ian Smith met today for a last desperate attempt to agree on ending the white Rhodesians' rebellion against eventual African rule.

Associates of Wilson reported that he was pessimistic about the outcome.

The two leading antagonists in the 13-month-old rebellion that threatens to tear the commonwealth apart went aboard the cruiser Tiger during the night as she lay at anchor in the rain-lashed Bay of Algeiras west of Gibraltar.

This morning the Tiger moved out into the rain-swept strait between Africa and Europe, reportedly bound either toward the Mediterranean island of Malta, 990 miles to the east, or toward Madeira, in the Atlantic 600 miles from Gibraltar.

Wilson and a team of top advisers flew to Gibraltar Thursday night after promising he would never surrender British principles.

He told the House of Commons that Britain and Rhodesia "are within hailing distance of a possible settlement" but cautioned that "there is still a considerable gap to bridge."

Smith arrived after midnight after a flight from Salisbury that took him around the bulge of Africa to avoid passing over black African countries opposed to his white-settler regime.

The rebel prime minister was accompanied by Gov. Sir Humphrey Gibbs and Chief Justice Sir Hugh Beadle, two Rhodesians who have remained loyal to Queen Elizabeth II.

Last Quintuplet Is Near Death Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Quintuplet Roni Sue Aranson lay near death today and her doctor said the "outlook for life is almost hopeless."

Dr. Lee Bass, who has been attending the lone surviving quintuplet at Magee-Women's Hospital, said she had suffered brain damage and her condition was very grave.

He said it appeared the 6-day-old infant would not live through the day.

Roni Sue was racked by a convulsion Thursday after experiencing breathing trouble—the same problem that claimed the lives of her four sisters.

Ships Send Out Signals Of Distress

LONDON (AP) — Radio distress signals crackled from at least half a dozen ships today as gales lashed the British Isles and surrounding seas.

The winds, gusting to nearly 130 miles an hour, blew heavy trucks off roads and left a trail of havoc.

Snow and heavy rain hit England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

Among the ships reporting trouble were the 7,176-ton Panamanian steamer Humboldt in the North Sea; the 900-ton Norwegian freighter Vinland off the Holyhead coast; the English lightship Varne in the Channel; the 2,739-ton British freighter Grit, the 1,946-ton Egyptian freighter Helvan and a Greek ship reported to be the 1,287-ton all in the Irish Sea.

Rain spattered Italy from the Alps to Sicily and waters rose again at Venice and Florence, the chief centers stricken by the great flood of Nov. 4.

A southeast wind whipped a high tide from the northern Adriatic over St. Mark's Square to Venice and the swollen Arno River again spilled into the fields in some outskirts of Florence. Officials at both cities, however, said the waters were expected to subside without serious damage.

Unemployment Rate Back At 1966 Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped back to its 1966 low of 3.7 per cent last month and total employment hit an all-time November high of 75 million, the Labor Department reported today.

The jobless rate declined from 3.9 per cent in October to 3.7 per cent in November. It was the third time this year the rate had hit that level, the lowest in 13 years.

The number of unemployed last month was 2,650,000.

Total employment soared by 300,000, compared with a usual November drop of 600,000.

"Some of the increase is a purely temporary phenomenon," said Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

State Rabbit Show Here On Weekend

A bumper entry of over 500 head of the top exhibition and commercial rabbits in the Midwest are entered in the Annual Missouri State Rabbit Producers Convention and Show.

The show will be held in the rabbit building at the State Fair grounds. The building will be open to the public starting at 9 o'clock Saturday, December 4. The show runs through Sunday and judging is expected to be completed at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The official judge of the rabbit show is Marvin Kroening of Marshfield, Wis.

Entries from Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma, and Illinois besides the fine Missouri entries have swelled the classes. The entered rabbits are the top show winners of the past season in country and state fairs. Many of the top winners at the August Missouri State Fair are entered.

Gene Doveland, Lee's Summit, state secretary has stated this is the largest entry of past seven years. This will be the first time for the State Rabbit Association to hold their show in Sedalia.

President and Mrs. Ed Lawson, Frankford, are being assisted by Pony Express Rabbit Club, St. Joseph; Springfield Rabbit Club as well as the Kansas City Midwest Rabbit Club.

GOP Field Wide Open For Bids

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois says the field is wide open for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968, but adds that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is a front-runner.

He also named Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan of California as possibilities.

"The woodwork has a way of producing people," he said.

Dirksen made the statement at a news conference Thursday before receiving the Silver Medal of the Union League of Philadelphia, a century-old business and professional men's club.

In his speech after the award — his first since being hospitalized for recurring hip trouble. — Dirksen told 1,400 persons that a "strange ferment and turbulence" in today's youth is threatening the nation.

More than 1,000 filled the Union League's auditorium. Several hundred more watched the address on closed circuit television in other rooms.

They heard Dirksen rap the Harvard University students who recently heckled Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara during a speech there.

Calling the students "stupid juveniles," Dirksen said he wanted to accept Harvard's next speech offer "to give it to them from the book."

Bombers Strike Oil Depot; Ambush Attempt Backfires

Cavalrymen Report 88 Enemy Killed In Action

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Dozens of U.S. fighter-bombers hammered at an oil depot and truck park near Hanoi today in the closest raids to the North Vietnamese capital in five months.

South of the border, a Viet Cong attempt to ambush a detachment of the 11th Armored Cavalry backfired. A spokesman said 88 of the enemy were killed. He said some Americans were wounded, but none died in the action, on Route 1 about 50 miles from Saigon.

West Area Feels Brunt Of Assault

Kosygin Directs Verbal Attack At German Gov't

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, in France on a state visit, made a biting attack on West Germany today and sounded a warning against the resurrection of "the forces of fascism."

Kosygin turned what was expected to have been a ceremonial visit to the Paris City Hall into a denunciation of what he said were West German ambitions for territory and nuclear arms.

"The present situation in Europe is far from reassuring," the 62-year-old Kremlin leader said.

"Demands for revision of postwar frontiers, coupled with pretensions for nuclear armament, carry the threat of upsetting the equilibrium and the peace of Europe," he said.

"The forces of fascism and war, defeated on the battlefield, are reappearing in broad daylight, unembarrassed and arrogant. The results of the recent elections in West Germany — in Bavaria and Hesse — constitute a new warning which should put even the most unconcerned on their guard."

Kosygin was referring to the recent electoral successes of the rightist National Democratic party, which succeeded in winning a few seats in the Bavarian and Hessian legislatures for the first time.

The Soviet premier said the only lasting bases for European security are "the inviolability of existing frontiers, particularly the Oder-Neisse frontier, and the denial of West German access to nuclear arms, under any form whatsoever."

Kosygin called for the dissolution of military alliances in Europe, repeating in another form an old Soviet offer to disband the Warsaw Pact alliance in return for the breakup of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

This appeal was significant. President Charles de Gaulle has withdrawn his country from NATO's military organization and is in the process of expelling Allied troops and bases from France.

The enemy unit, estimated as a 500-man battalion, opened the five-hour engagement at 4:30 p.m. with recoilless rifle and mortar fire. The cavalry immediately called in artillery and air support.

Preliminary reports were sketchy and the size of the armored unit was not reported.

A Hanoi dispatch broadcast from Moscow declared MIG jets, rockets and conventional antiaircraft guns responded to the American raids on the Hanoi sector and one U.S. plane was shot down. There was no confirmation of this in Saigon.

Taking advantage of clearing weather, about 20 carrier-based Navy planes attacked the Van Dien vehicle depot five miles south of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman announced.

Simultaneously, 50 to 70 Air Force Phantom jets and Thunderchiefs raided the Ha Gia oil depot 14½ miles north of Hanoi, the spokesman said.

U.S. headquarters said a damage assessment of the raids had not been compiled from the pilots' reports.

The raids were the closest to Hanoi since June 29, when American planes struck an oil depot three miles from the center of the city as well as an oil depot on the outskirts of Hai Phong, North Viet Nam's chief port. They were the first American attacks in the immediate vicinity of North Viet Nam's two most important cities.

An earlier report from a U.S. spokesman placed the raids to day at four miles from Hanoi but a later announcement corrected this.

LBJ, Advisor Go Over the Latest Economic Report

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson received from his chief economic adviser today a prediction of continued prosperity in 1967 and an easing in inflationary pressures.

Johnson and Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of economic advisers, interrupted a day-long conference on various economic and budget messages to conduct a joint news conference.

Johnson said he and Ackley went over the latest economic reports and estimates of various kinds, and employment figures released today by the Labor Department in Washington.

The President also announced that 150,000 tons of copper will be released from government stocks in the first two quarters of 1967 for use in defense and defense-supporting industries.

He said, in reply to a question, this could affect current high prices for copper but that was not the purpose.

Both Johnson and Joseph A. Califano Jr., a presidential assistant, stressed that the copper is being released in view of the present tight supply situation.

There still will be 250,000 tons of copper remaining in the stockpile.

Johnson said he and Ackley reviewed the council's latest evaluations of the present economic situation. He said some of the council's figures have a bearing on the question on a tax increase but added: "They may change tomorrow."

Reminded that Ackley has recommended that Johnson announce his tax decision by Dec. 10, Johnson remarked: "He makes a lot of recommendations."

Nurses Get Increase In Paycheck

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Youngstown Hospital Association today granted a wage increase of 20 per cent over two years and an additional 3.6 per cent for each year of service up to four years to nurses who have not resigned from two of the city's hospitals.

The nursing staffs at North Side and South Side hospitals operated by the association were down to half of normal today and only emergency cases were being accepted after some 350 general duty nurses resigned Thursday in a pay dispute.

Today's statement from the hospital association said, "the wage increases and the fringe benefits which the Youngstown Hospital Association offered the Ohio State Nurses Association Nov. 29, 1966, will go into effect today for all nurses presently employed by the hospitals."

Jack Maikranz, administrator of North Side Hospital, said the statement applied only to those nurses who reported for work today.

A spokesman for the Youngstown Hospital Association, which operates North Side and South Side hospitals, said 43 registered nurses, most of them supervisors, were on duty at the two hospitals today, compared to the normal complement of 78 nurses.

A spokesman for the nurses association said these figures were "grossly exaggerated" and said the nurses that were working were "doubling up."

This was denied by the Hospital Association.

FINDING THE WAY

A Time for Constraint

By RALPH W. LOWE, D.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A few days ago Dr. Saul Alinsky commented that all too many people in northern cities want to keep things quiet. He called it a "zoo mentality," an attempt to keep people caged, quiet, and, if not complacent, at least silent. He's probably right about it.

There are, undoubtedly, structures in every city that want to keep life free from controversy. As Ralph Sockman once said, "There are people who, if they saw the Lord coming down one side of the street and the devil coming down the other, would say, 'Here you two ought to get together!'"

This is the problem of restraint. Men can be restrained by tyrants, by laws or by their own habits. But they can also be restrained by their own inability to speak. If a man is in danger of economic or social jeopardy he can be easily restrained. On the other hand there are good restraints. The traffic law which encourages a driver to handle the power of his automobile in a careful manner is a good restraint. I may be driving within legal limits, yet if I see a motorcycle policeman following me, I look at my speedometer and I feel the definite sense of restraint.

There is also the restraint that comes from fear. The President doesn't use nuclear power or bomb certain cities or escalate the war in certain ways because he must act in a restrained way. The possibilities of nuclear destruction are too awful to contemplate.

There's another word that needs to be explored in these days, namely the fine concept of constraint. There's no zoo mentality about that. Constraint is an inner discipline. Think of the causes in any city that would be blessed if some people would use inner constraint instead of blasting with unrestrained invective.

Constraint doesn't lash out in unrestrained language. It doesn't bluster or threaten nor does it lie down in shameful apathy. Constraint has the quality of moral responsibility. You can be restrained by law but constrained by love.

The problem for too many people is that they are restrained by their own fears. They're afraid to do what they know they ought to do. As John Ciardi once said, "In this security-conscious society of ours we're so afraid of going broke that we're afraid to go for broke."

There are too many people in our segregated clubs and civic groups who are restrained by their own fears. They're afraid of what someone will say. There are too many people in a neighborhood who are afraid to speak with courage. They're afraid of what someone will say.

with abrasive words or irresponsible acts. What so many citizens need to explore is the ancient statement, "For the love of Christ constraineth us." J. B. Phillips translates that, "The very spring of our actions is the love of Christ."

There are social injustices to be dealt with in our time. There are areas which have the need of communication. There are honest people who have been working and are continuing to work to meet these needs, secure this justice and build a community in which every man is free, uncaged from either another man's tyranny or his own restraints. It is a time for constraint, a time when "the love of Christ allows us no choice."

Cutback Plan May Conflict In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's plans for cutbacks in domestic programs threaten to bring him into conflict with liberal House Democrats in the 90th Congress.

Although Republicans have greeted with enthusiasm Johnson's announcement of cuts totaling $5.3 billion in federal programs, Democrats are showing much less willingness to go along with their party's leader.

"I disagree 150 per cent," says Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., who is chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, a liberal group that frequently is at odds with Johnson.

Less vehemently, other Democrats privately express doubts about the course Johnson has elected to follow.

"I just don't think Congress is going to make any cutbacks," said a prominent House member who has long supported the administration.

The programs these members want to see uncut are the education, housing and antipoverty programs the Democrats fought long and hard to bring into being. Johnson has called for deferring some and cutting back others.

"There shouldn't be any cutbacks in these modest programs," said Edwards. "And they are modest programs."

"What we should take a good hard look at," he added, "is military spending. In 1965, expenditures totaled $96 billion and for this year they are talking about $126 billion. Nearly all that increase has gone into the defense budget. That's where the cuts should come, not in programs that would help all Americans."

The President also has said he hopes to reach a decision around the end of the year on whether to ask for a tax increase to help finance the Vietnam war and cool off the economy.

If he decides to seek a tax hike, he will have the support of a committee of business executives and educators. The 12-member program committee of the Committee on Economic Development called Thursday for a tax increase and spending cuts next year large enough to produce a $3 billion federal budget surplus.

But the principal spokesman for the nation's mayors appealed to Johnson to reconsider planned cuts in antipoverty spending. Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh suggested space expenditures be trimmed instead.

Just Another Boom Over The Rooftops

Sedalia and area residents were startled from sleep at 4:15 o'clock Friday morning by what they thought was an explosion or thunder.

Most persons who got up went to the bathroom and back to bed when they decided the big noise was nothing more than a sonic boom created by a high flying airplane.

Police said they had no calls in the early morning hours so evidently most people were not too much concerned although one individual said he thought it was a Chinese bomb being lobbed over here.

Kiwanians Hear About MU Service

How knowledge resources are extended to citizens of the state through the University of Missouri Extension Division, was explained by William Rader, Director of the Extension Center, Sedalia, in a talk before Sedalia Kiwanians at their meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker who was introduced by Program Chairman Henry Salveter, said that the objective of the division is to help Missouri citizens and institutions keep up with the rapidly changing body of knowledge, to the end that the state advances economically, socially and culturally.

In each county, as in Pettis, there is a University of Missouri Extension Center which represents all four University campuses. County personnel are staff members of the University-wide system and are not attached to a campus. Each Center is administratively responsible for the Center. In addition, there are staff members working in specialized fields such as agriculture, social sciences, home economics, youth, community development, or local government.

Working in cooperation with the University and the County Director in each county is an elected County University of Missouri Extension Council. This group is responsible for securing local finances, makes recommendations to the University concerning the appointment and transfer of Extension personnel located in the county and advises on the development of the program for the county.

A roll call of members was taken to determine how many would attend the Kiwanis Christmas dinner party at Flat Creek next Thursday evening when a program will be presented by a chorus of officers' wives from Whiteman Air Force Base, and a moving picture presentation of the Holy Land by the Rev. J. R. Wallace, pastor of the First Baptist church, who recently visited there.

This year again the Kiwanians will participate in ringing the bell for the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights. Their work day will be December 14 ringing the bells for kettle collections from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Announcement was made that the Kiwanis club annual Pancake Day would be held at Sacred Heart Cafeteria Saturday, February 11, 1967. Chairman of this project are: Bill Dugan and Gene Landon.

Singing was led by William Ward with Mrs. Lillian Maynard as accompanist.

Guests of Henry Salveter were Owen Fox and Lloyd Lewellen. M. L. Edwards, Pinkney Miller, Roy Brown, Bill Dugan and Jim Gokaris participated in the Divisional Training Conference at Boonville last Sunday.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: We are newlyweds who have reached an impasse and have agreed to abide by your decision.

My husband has a partial plate. I knew this when I married him but it made no difference. The problem is that my husband refuses to allow me in the bathroom when he is brushing his plate. It hurts me to be shut out.

I feel a married couple should be completely open with each other in every way. I have never refused my husband anything he has asked of me. Last night I begged him to let me see him without his partial but he said, "No." Please settle this disagreement in my favor because it means a lot to me.—ALMOST PARADISE.

Dear Almost: I believe married couples should be completely open, too, but what you are after is not "openness." It is, instead, a violation of your husband's privacy.

Too much togetherness can suffocate a marriage. People need to be alone. If the man is self-conscious about being seen without his partial plate, for heaven's sake respect his feelings. And please read the next letter. It may help you view the situation differently.

Dear Ann Landers: Three months ago, my husband had dentures made. I was happy when he finally agreed to put his mouth in shape because he has been needing it for a long time.

The problem is he will not keep his teeth in. He looks about 20 years older without his dentures.

Dear Papa: A fifth grader (even though he has a vivid imagination) should be able to separate fact from fantasy. You two have encouraged your son's story-telling and now you must put a stop to it or he will turn into one of the world's biggest liars.

Make it clear that every time the boy tells a story he must label it as a story. Show your appreciation for his fantasies, but show even more appreciation for the truth.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

First Woman Postal Clerk On A Train

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Linda Gardner had about a half hour to get to work to become the first woman railway mail clerk.

The Post Office Department needed a railway mail clerk in a hurry and Miss Gardner, 20, was called.

"I had about a half-hour notice from the time I said I'd go," she related.

At 8 o'clock Friday morning, Nov. 25, she boarded a mail car at Union Station for a six-hour run to St. Louis.

Postal officials said Thursday that was the first time since railroad mail runs began in 1862 that a woman had been assigned as a clerk aboard one of the cars.

Women had volunteered before but had never quite made it. The officials said the cars are not equipped for women.

"When I told my mother," Miss Gardner said, "she said I was crazy. She's worked for the Post Office for nine years and knew what I would be getting into."

Hired as a career substitute, Miss Gardner is available to take the place of any regular employee during vacations or illness. However, she normally is assigned to the main Post Office.

She remained in St. Louis Friday night and made the return run Saturday afternoon.

How did she like the work?

"It's a hard job. You have to learn to hold your balance while the car is rocking and hit those little pigeon holes. I was lucky that the mail was light."

Marion L. Myers, Com. W. L. Reed, Recorder.

North Dakota Farm Boy In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The bronze plaque in the gleamingly modern building features a life-like bas-relief of its owner. The inscription: "The Lawrence Welk Union Bank Building — dedicated to all those who made it possible."

To my knowledge, Lawrence Welk does not own Union Bank. But he does own the ground-floor space where the bank has a branch, as well as the six floors above. On the top floor of the Wilshire Boulevard building in Santa Monica you find the offices of the various Welk corporations. In the thick-carpeted interior, the onetime Strasburg, N.D., farm boy conducts his musical empire.

"I like it here," said Welk one afternoon, flipping a switch that drew the drapes and revealed a clear view of the fog.

"I bought this property because of the park across the street. It reminds me of the wide open spaces that I knew as a boy back in North Dakota." He swiveled his chair to the control panel and closed the drapes "because of the glare."

Welk's persistent good humor seemed as strong as ever, perhaps because of the recent ratings for his Saturday night ABC television show. One listing placed him as No. 12.

"Yes, we have had our best ratings this season, and it is very gratifying," he said in the Alsace-Lorraine accent he acquired from his immigrant parents. "It has always been our experience to be beaten by the new shows at the early part of the season and then catch up and sometimes pass them as the season progresses."

This season's success smells especially sweet to Welk. The reason: He didn't expect to be blowing his bubbles on television this year.

"It's true," he admitted "after ten years on television, I expected we would start to fall. I realized that the public was partly fickle, and when we went into our eleventh season last year, I thought it might be our last."

"I wanted to go off in a blaze of glory, and so I fought for color. The network was against it, and so were the sponsors. But I felt strongly that we could do better in color."

Welk can be persuasive in his own quiet way, and ABC was convinced to spend $1.5 million to convert a studio for color-televasting his show. The new hue put the show back in the rating race. Now Welk can doubtless remain on TV as long as he is able.

The future seems indefinite. After 42 years of his 62 as a band leader, he retains the old bounce. He switched on the stereo to play his latest record, "Westminster Cathedral," demonstrating he can play for the hip crowd as well as oldsters.

The Welk band now travels only five or six weeks a year — "the old man is slowing down." Yet he not only does his weekly TV hour but plays weekends at the Palladium through most of the year.

Manhattan, Wichita Are Dry Kansas Cities

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Checking over his rainfall reports for the past year, the weatherman came up Thursday with two real dry cities in Kansas.

His reports showed that Manhattan has had only 47 per cent of its normal amount of moisture in the past 12 months.

Wichita wasn't much better, just 49 per cent.

Some other dry spots in Missouri and Kansas with their percentage of rainfall compared to normal:

Oregon, Mo., 60; St. Joseph and Topeka, 64 each; Gallatin, Mo., 65; Lexington, Mo., 69; Lawrence 71; Maryville, Mo., 73 and Warrensburg 77.

Closest to normal was Springfield which has received 94 per cent of the moisture it could normally expect for the period.

Great Demand For Poultry May Even Lower Prices

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As has been the custom since the 9th century, many people today will eat fish but others — perhaps more than ever before — will eat poultry, some for the first time on a Friday.

Two factors are responsible: For the nation's 45 million Roman Catholics, meatless Fridays end officially today. Meat was permitted last Friday, but as an extension of the Thanksgiving holiday.

In the midst of an inflation that has pushed up food prices dramatically, chickens for broiling or frying are far below the prices they sold for a decade ago.

Unwelcome inflationary pressure nearly choked the household budget this year. But these two diverse factors of the fish and the fowl make the pleasant news of the year in food.

Curious factors emerge from these changes.

A study by one of the larger fish processors indicates that the market for fish — now at an annual rate of 11 pounds per American — might actually expand after a brief drop. One finding, for example, was that nearly 80 per cent of Catholics said they plan to continue serving fish on Friday, ban or no ban.

The demand for low-cost chicken has been so inspiring to producers that, even though profit margins for some have been wiped out, they may lower their prices even more in the first half of 1967.

The Agriculture Department estimates that 2.5 billion broilers will be raised this year, an increase of 8.5 per cent over the 2.3 billion in 1965. Production has, in fact, increased for 20 straight years.

Such tremendous production demands — more than 12 boilers for every American — has forced out of business the onerous small chicken-farmer. Even some big producers are finding difficult going.

Chicken raising is hardly a barnyard industry anymore. Some producers release literally millions of birds to the market each week. Automation hooks a squawking, feathered bird at one end of the factory and sends it out the other packed in ice.

The fish industry also is changing. In the past, it was not known as an innovator. The fish were netted, brought to shore and placed on a tray of crushed ice in the store.

Today, the product may be filleted, precooked, frozen and neatly packaged. The cook no longer needs to clean the fish — merely heat it.

Regardless of the bans or lack of them, the very long-range tendency of the fish food industry is up — perhaps not immediately and perhaps not soon enough to benefit many companies dramatically.

In the long run, however, the demands of world population will force mankind more and more to the oceans. If the land can produce chickens at lower and lower prices, perhaps the sea can yield fish at lower and lower prices.

Toplessness Going Strong In Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — "The female breast will be exposed here," the sign says. The scene is not Las Vegas, San Francisco or New York. It is staid old St. Petersburg.

In bold, black letters, the sign forewarns that no pasties, nets or fringes hamper the torso movements of entertainers at the Cock and Bull Club, where topless go-go girls are denting the city's reputation as a strait-laced haven for the elderly.

Seven nights a week the club is packed with patrons, male and female, who must assert beforehand that toplessness will not corrupt their morals or outrage their sense of public decency.

It was on the issues of morals and decency that John Taylor, 38, owner of the club, broke Florida's main statutory ban on topless entertainment and, in effect, made it legal statewide.

Last May, Taylor, an ex-disc jockey, decided to make his club topless and found four volunteers among his eight go-go girls.

Taylor invited sheriff's deputies to the first performances and, as he expected, officers arrested him and the dancers for disorderly conduct.

With a request for a jury trial, the case went to criminal court but was never prosecuted. The state spent weeks questioning patrons in an effort to build a case on the morals and decency statute, then gave up.

Prosecutor Alan R. Williams said: "After three months we came up with a list of six witnesses. Two said they were embarrassed but not shocked. All admitted there had been an announcement that such a performance was coming. Two said they went back the next night."

Williams said the Florida law, as it is worded, is not sufficient to make it a crime to expose the female breast. "The U.S. Supreme Court has said many times that nudity itself is not obscene."

Taylor pays his dancers $150 a week — about half again what a secretary could expect to earn. And the money is the big draw for the girls.

Jeanine Beverly, 19, was working in St. Petersburg as a receptionist when she saw the Cock and Bull's newspaper ad. A dancing addict without professional experience, she took the job because she couldn't support her child on the $43.10 she was taking home weekly.

"If you just don't think about being topless it doesn't bother you," she says. "Besides, I can't see a thing without my glasses on."

No Place for Sour Pusses

Calling Sedalia a small town is not good promotional technique from the standpoint of the Chamber of Commerce.

But Sedalia is not a big town.

So then, Sedalia must be average with 28,000 population or thereabouts. But Sedalia is not just average. It is better than average.

Small, big or average Sedalia is a town Central Missourians are attracted to during any season of the year, and particularly now during the Christmas shopping season.

Those of us who are on the streets regularly and who see the movement of buyers in all the stores downtown, in areas of the shopping centers and elsewhere are quickly conscious of the change of pace.

Other communities may say, what's so different about this that they don't have, too, at this time of year.

Well, they ought to move around in business, professional, social, club and church circles of Sedalia at other times of the year. We are not attempting to downgrade any community but it seems to us there is something about Sedalians that make a person want to become better acquainted with more of these residents of the Queen City of the Prairies.

Sure, we have our differences of opinion. Certainly, we blast off at each other now and then. But in the final analysis no one carries a grudge very long. If he does he is finally considered a peculiar sort of a fellow by those who recognize his weakness in this respect.

There is nothing which builds up community morale better than to have folks greet each other pleasantly and sincerely after they have had a run in over some differences of opinion about private or public matters.

What is even more pleasant is to find these same folks joining together in mutual effort to create ideas for building a better town whether it is small, big or average. But a big town sometimes has more difficulty in doing those neighborly things in the manner in which the small or average or better than average towns do them.

There's something about the unpolluted atmosphere, perhaps, that has a lot to do with making Sedalia an outstanding community of more friendly, hospitable and agreeable people than can be found in many places of similar size.

However we can lose this feeling of pride in our gracious behavior toward one another and to strangers, also, if we involuntarily revert to austerity and bluntness when we come into contact with other persons.

Let's maintain the correct attitude not only this pre-Christmas period when strangers come to town to do their shopping but also during all the days of the New Year which follow.

FBI Tapped Dominican Embassy

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The Federal Bureau of Investigation, it has now been revealed, has been tapping the wires of the Dominican Embassy.

A foreign embassy in the United States is extraterritorial ground with privileges reserved to that country only. The United States may not intrude on embassy territory even if murder is committed inside. This is international law which the United States has insisted upon abroad and which we adhere to in this country.

The State Department therefore is very red-faced to find that the FBI placed taps on the wires of the Dominican Embassy in 1961 shortly after the assassination of Dictator Trujillo.

This was disclosed as a result of the Justice Department's prosecution of Bobby Baker, the former Senate Secretary, some of whose conversations were bugged and wire tapped. As a result of this FBI eavesdropping it may be that the Baker indictments will be thrown out of court. The matter is now being heard before U. S. Judge Oliver Gasch in pre-trial motions. Some of Baker's conversations had been wire tapped and bugged, submitted conversations he had had with the Dominican Embassy. He had placed several phone calls to the embassy around May 1961, usually speaking to the financial counselor Oscar Ginebra, about the prospects of Joaquin Balaguer then provisional president, becoming permanent president.

Rusk Asks Evidence Suppressed
Balaguer resumed the presidency this year after defeating leftwing candidate Juan

Bosch in the post-revolution election. It won't help Dominican-American relations for Balaguer now to discover that his embassy phones were tapped the last time he headed the Dominican government.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was so alarmed over the eavesdropping that he sent an anguished appeal to the courts to suppress the evidence. Accordingly, Judge Gasch sealed the evidence and directed Baker and his attorneys not to mention the embassy wire taps.

Oscar Ginebra, reached by this column at the Inter-American Development Bank where he is now a section chief, recalls receiving a number of phone calls from Baker in the late spring of 1961. However, he claimed he couldn't remember what was discussed.

It isn't known how long the FBI continued to monitor the embassy's phones. However, FBI agents were listening in on the conversations of prominent Dominicans as late as this year.

The FBI tapped the phones of another Bobby Baker intimate, Jose Benitez, in Puerto Rico, while Juan Bosch lived in Benitez's apartment. The FBI wanted to know what Bosch was saying during the civil strife in the Dominican Republic.

Congratulations to the Teamsters Union for launching a massive $2 million project to train 1,800 people, in Southern California, in truck driving, auto mechanics and passenger-car driving. ## The World Today

Chance Nations May Achieve Maturity

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixteen years ago in San Francisco, when the United Nations was patched together, there was almost a feeling of exhilaration around the world.

Perhaps there could be a new beginning when reason and co-operation would prevail and war at last would be disowned as primitive. History indicated otherwise.

But at least there was a chance. In the 16 years since there have been no wars between major powers, but there have been wars. And the two biggest, Korea and Viet Nam, involved the United States.

Although the statesmen of the two nuclear giants of the world, the United States and the Soviet Union, may claim that reason was the persuasive factor in their ability to avoid a head-on clash, fear was a big element, perhaps the biggest.

Thus, the United Nations has not been the ideal solution of the world's problems and, in the foreseeable future, there is no reason to think it will be.

But so long as the world's antagonists can meet, argue, dick-er and be made just a little self-conscious about reverting to barbarism there is a chance over many years they may achieve a maturity lacking now.

This kind of belief is perhaps the basic reason why U. Thant agreed Thursday to stay on another five years as U.N. secretary-general after announcing last Sept. 1 that his first five-year term, ending this year, was his last.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union wanted him to stay. His agreement to do so, and he was under pressure from many other governments to say yes, may have averted U.N. chaos in trying to find a successor.

Thant, 57, a Burmese, has no illusions that the United Nations is the perfect instrument for the salvation of the world, as he made clear in September when he announced he wouldn't serve again.

He particularly denounced the Vietnamese war, calling it cruel and a "reproach to the conscience of humanity." He has proposed three points for a settlement of the war, but they have gotten nowhere.

By himself Thant almost surely will work no miracles, since this would be expecting too much from an individual in his position in a world in its present condition.

But at least he is earnest, he has balance, he is courageous enough to be critical of the big powers, even though he expresses himself in diplomatic language when he cuts at one side or the other.

Perhaps the most important effect in his decision to remain is that he gives the troubled United Nations a sense of continuity it can cling to while stumbling through its self-created fog.

In the old shell game the barker cries, "Now you see it, now you don't," and places the pea under one of the shells and moves them around rapidly.

South's four spade contract looks like a cinch. True, the trumps are all in one hand but South can lose only two diamonds and the ace of clubs. Now let's see how East and West operated the old shell game against South. For the sake of the record, South was a good player but he fell for a swindle.

East looked over dummy and saw quickly that a trump honor in his partner's hand was too much to hope for. Then East overtook his partner's king of diamonds with the ace and returned the nine spot.

South played low. West puts the ten on his partner's nine and played the queen.

South thought for awhile. It looked as if West had started with six diamonds and that East would be able to ruff. South decided to make sure of the trick by ruffing with dummy's jack of trumps. He did and when all four trumps showed up in the East hand South was down one.

We can't criticize South's play at all. He knew that East might have been fooling in the diamond suit but the chance of a 6-2 diamond break was 17 per cent and the chance of a 4-0 spade break only 10 per cent.

In other words, South's play of the jack of trumps gave him a 90 per cent chance to make his contract. A ruff with a low trump would only have given him an 83 per cent chance.

French Songster's Success Among The Meteoric Few

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (ap) — She looks like a gazelle in miniskirts.

She doesn't wear rouge or lipstick. She doesn't smoke.

"And I don't dance at all — except in my mind always," she said.

But at 22, Francoise Hardy, the symbol of swinging youth in France, is reported to get more fan mail than Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

The young singer composed her first hit song, "All the Boys and Girls," at 17. Since then she has met with an international acclaim as a recording star reminiscent of the quick rise of the Beatles, Elvis Presley, and Barbra Streisand.

The French government, which she says now takes 65 per cent of her earnings, considers her a national resource.

"Everything happened to me so easily," she said. "But success forces you to be too concentrated in yourself. It makes you egocentric, and I am afraid that is now my biggest fault."

Francoise is pale and tall and lovely and has green eyes, a quick wit, and long hair that falls around her shoulders in an auburn mist.

She came here for a visit after making her English-speaking debut as a star in the MGM-Cinemas film, "Grand Prix."

Miss Hardy is a style setter in dress as well as in song in Europe. She once created a sensation by strolling into the staid Savoy Hotel in London in orange trousers.

Heads craned, too, the other day when she entered the fashionable 21 Club restaurant here clad in a beige sweater, dark Italian moccasins, heavily textured white stockings, and a very abbreviated plaid skirt.

"The American people treat you more as an object than as a person," she remarked with quiet composure. "This is not true in Paris."

Over a vegetarian plate — Francoise eats sparingly only twice a day — she told about her life.

"I want to know a lot of things — everything about everything, but I know that is impossible," she said.

"I hope that in the future I'll find something else to do, but I don't know yet what. I don't feel clever enough to be a writer, and I never wanted to be an actress."

Francoise, who accompanies herself on the guitar, also keeps a staff of five musicians on her payroll. She herself composes about half of the songs she records or sings on television.

This is her philosophy: "I am too young yet to know if life has a meaning, but I believe it is better to regret what you have done than what you haven't done. Who doesn't risk anything, has nothing."

To her, motherhood is the finest expression of creativity. But she says that at present she has no marriage plans.

"In France, we do not marry as readily as you do here," she said.

Some Jews Uncertain About Recent Anglican Programs

By IRVING C. WHYNOT
Canadian Press Writer

TORONTO (AP) — Four years ago the Toronto Diocese of the Anglican Church gave one of its priests a new job: Get Anglicans and Jews talking together.

The Rev. Ronald de Cornille, who got the job, has been talking ever since, almost with missionary zeal, although that probably is the description he'd like least since he has taken great pains to emphasize the absence of any conversion motives.

Even so, some Toronto Jews aren't convinced: others are reserved; some see hope in the program for a better interfaith understanding. Father de Cornille isn't dismayed.

"After 2,000 years of persecution," he tells his Anglican study groups, "can anyone blame them for being suspicious?"

He has already brought thousands of Christians and Jews together for talks in what he calls "this new relationship."

And while there are some Anglicans as well as Jews who doubt the program's chances of success, it has been something of a pacesetter as far as the Church generally is concerned. So much so that Father de Cornille's just-published book, "Christians and Jews: Dialogue," will be used by the National Council of Churches, representing the major non-Roman Catholic faiths in the United States, for interfaith conversations there. The program also has attracted attention in Europe.

Father de Cornille, 39, is a native of Switzerland whose father was at one time Protestant chaplain-general of the French army.

"Christians and Jews: Dialogue" sets out the guidelines Father de Cornille uses in his study sessions with Anglican lay groups.

How do the Jews feel about it all?

Tenant Farming

Tenant farming in the United States is declining during the second half of the 20th century. In 1930, 25.6 per cent of all U.S. farms were being operated by tenants who rented all their land from landlords. The figure rose to 42.4 per cent in 1930, but has dropped steadily since then.

Look At 'New City'

Religion 'Campus Style' One Of Several New Plans

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Grouped on a single block of land, the various churches share buildings and manpower in running a busy religious industry, every day and evening, in the middle of town.

That's the vision — and the prospective reality — which is developing among American churches today as a means of reinforcing spiritual life at the heart of modern communities.

"It's part of the 'new city' concept, and major Christian denominations have joined forces to put it into operation. It also is taking shape in various ways in many older urban areas.

"The day is gone when any one church can develop an adequate strategy by itself," says the Rev. John DeBoer of the United Church's Board of Homeland Ministries' division of urban extension. It has issued a guidebook for group-clustered churches.

The most advanced of the "new city" projects, among several proposed, is for the town of Columbia, Md., where a "campus" is planned for religious activities.

"This venture can set a pattern for a more harmonious mode of life and more harmonious mode of life among people of many different faiths," said Bishop Daniel Corrigan, director of the Episcopal Church's home department.

He said it also offered a method for strengthening church influence in future new towns and cities throughout America.

The Episcopal Church last week became the 12th denomination to enter the plan, pledging $250,000 to it. Altogether, the 12 denominations have put up more than $2 million to back the new approach.

They've formed a joint "religious facilities corporation" to carry it out — the first time that principal Protestant bodies have pooled building finances on such a broad scale of cooperation.

Church involvement in community development also got another boost this month when four denominations and a secular agency, Urban American, Inc. entered an agreement to help sponsor low-cost housing projects across the country.

They will aid in forming interfaith, non-profit housing corporations in various localities to obtain federal loans for building developments — estimated at up to 30,000 units annually.

In some cases, "seed money" may be provided to local church groups for the projects. Denominations involved so far are the Methodist Church, the United Presbyterian Church, the United Church of Christ and the Episcopal Church.

At the Columbia, Md., site, where a complex of nine villages is under way between Baltimore and Washington, the 12-denomination corporation is to share ministers and facilities.

This will involve common use of buildings, joint administrative offices and expenditures for low-cost housing investment, community youth work and joint religious educational programs for all age groups.

Buildings are to be constructed for multiple week-long uses throughout the days and evenings of various church-oriented community activities. Ministers will work together in pastoral counseling, youth work and administration.

Although each denomination will retain its own traditions in worship services, the same sanctuaries may be used at different hours or services may be held in separate chapels in the same buildings.

Land is being reserved adjacent to each elementary school for released time education classes five days a week, with salaried teachers, jointly employed by the participating churches.

The first of the nine villages expected to be ready next spring, is at Wildc Lake, where the churches have acquired a five-acre tract for three worship sanctuaries and central buildings for joint education and administrative facilities.

Participating denominations, besides the Episcopal Church, are:

The Methodist Church, the United Church of Christ, United

State Welfare Head Replies To Criticism

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Proctor N. Carter, state welfare director, has taken exception to criticism of Missouri's welfare programs by Theodore Ernst, an associate professor at the University of Missouri.

Ernst charged the state welfare programs were inadequate in a speech in Kansas City Monday.

In a letter of reply, Carter noted 22 per cent of Missouri's entire revenue goes for public assistance.

Ernst said it would take $50 million more a year to bring Missouri up to minimum standards.

Carter said he would welcome such an amount but that would impair the budgets for education, mental health, corrections and other services. Actually, he said, Missouri spends more per capita on welfare than 40 other states.

And the reason average grants are comparatively low is that cities and counties do not add to the state allotments.

Missouri eligibility requirements also are lenient, thus more people qualify for aid.

Dallas And Green Bay

Title Hopes On Line For Two Professional Squads

NEW YORK (AP) — Dallas should practically wrap up the Eastern title in the National Football League Sunday and the Green Bay Packers should clinch at least a tie in the West.

The Buffalo Bills, coming on strong in the stretch, figure to even matters with Boston for an earlier defeat and nail down the American Football League's Eastern Division crown. Kansas City, with a bye, already had won the Western Division title.

The old Hand picker tries it once more (all games are Sunday unless otherwise indicated):

NFL
Dallas 20, St. Louis 9—Cowboys smell that Super Bowl cash. Teams played 10-10 tie earlier but that was before Charley Johnson was hurt. Cards' tough defense will give Don Meredith the big rush but their offense hasn't produced a touchdown in the last two games. Cowboys pack too much punch.
Cleveland 42, New York 17—After that disaster in Washington, the Giants are ready for anything. Browns are teetering

Two Teams Named For NCAA Squad

Three individuals and two relay teams from Lincoln University at Jefferson City have been named to the 1966 NCAA College Division All-American Track team.

The individual Tiger All-Americans were Stanley McDonald, a senior discus hurler who set both school and Midwest Athletic Association records last spring; Emmanuel Belland, a junior triple jumper; and Clarence Wine, a sophomore three-miler.

The Lincoln mile relay team consisting of John McCowan, senior; Ernest Tidwell, senior; Carlos E. Raigans, sophomore; and Charles Bell, freshman, was named to the All-American team as was the 440 relay team of McCowan, Tidwell, Belland and Arvesta Kelly, senior.

McDonald had the sixth best discus mark in the nation at one time last year when he threw 176'6½" for a new school record and a meet record in the Kansas University Relays. He set a MWAA record at 176'½" for first in the conference meet, and he also set a record in the Emporia Relays.

Belland took the conference triple jump crown with a leap of 46'6½". He also was MWAA high jump champion with a record leap of 6'10½", and he set a Kansas State Indoor Relay high jump mark at 6'10".

Wine was a consistent winner last spring for the Tigers in both the mile and three-mile events. He took the conference championship in the three-mile with a 15:03 time.

Dwight T. Reed, Lincoln University athletic director and a football coach, is the Tiger track mentor.

Warsaw And Lincoln In Cage Wins

Warsaw and Lincoln high schools moved into the finals of the Warsaw Invitational Basketball Tournament. Thursday night, when they won in their semi-final games. Warsaw defeated Stover in a heated contest 58-54 while Lincoln disposed of LaMonte 68-60.

Warsaw jumped into the lead of their basketball game in the 2nd quarter when they scored 18 points to eight to have a half-time lead of 32-24. Stover made a frantic effort to come back and outscored Warsaw in the third quarter 15-14 and 15-12 in the fourth falling short enough points to win.

Bobby Barnes was high pointer for Warsaw with 29 and Steve Roland high for Stover with 27, a scoring battle between the two.

Lincoln after taking a first quarter lead of 13-9 nearly saw their lead fade as LaMonte's Vikings came back to put on a 21 to 18 point rally and trailed by a lonesome point at the half. Lincoln picked up in the third scoring 18 to 11, while the two teams knotted the final stanza 19-19 to give Lincoln the eight point edge of 68-60.

Mills was high for LaMonte and Terry McCain high for Lincoln with 22 points, another scoring contest between the two.

Kansas Teams See Losses In Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washburn beat Rockhurst 74-53 but four other Kansas College basketball teams lost to out-of-state schools Thursday night.

Springfield State of Missouri broke a 57-57 deadlock in the second half, scored the next eight points and went on to an 84-71 decision over Emporia State. Dennis Smith led Emporia with 18 points.

McMurray of Texas defeated Pittsburg State 62-55, and Warrensburg State of Missouri beat Ottawa 96-74.

Midland of Nebraska downed Friends 81-55.

Ottawa's Tony Verdix was the high scorer with 20 points. Sylvester Mitchell and Ron Mooney each made 24 for Warrensburg.

In the 16th Central Kansas Collegiate tournament at Moundridge, Bethel defeated defending champion Bethany 63-58, and Tabor beat McPherson 89-60. Bethel rolled up a big 31-18 halftime margin and Bethany couldn't overcome it. Tabor was in control all the way.

The four teams will rest tonight, then finish the tourney Saturday night with Tabor and Bethel playing for the title, McPherson and Tabor for third place.

only plus of Bears' sick offense. Baltimore in desperate position, must win or Packer game next week means nothing.

Los Angeles 23, Detroit 10—Rams still dreaming of possible second-place finish if Colts collapse continues. Dick Bass ran for 136 yards when Rams beat Lions 14-7 in October. Los Angeles defense has been red hot with front four playing "get the quarterback" game.

Philadelphia 24, Pittsburgh 14—Steelers have been tough lately, knocking off Browns and Cards before losing to Cowboys and Eagles in 6-3 rematch. Eagles coming off a bye in good spot to make run for playoff in Miami with 6-5 record. Philadelphia won first game 31-14.

Minnesota 30 Atlanta 17—Vikings in bad mood after that close defeat by Green Bay. Falcons coming on week by week.

AFL
Oakland 21, New York 14, Saturday—Raiders were eliminated in West last week but Jets still have slim outside chance in East. Jets seldom do good on West Coast and Raiders have top pass defense against New York's best weapon, Joe Namath.

Buffalo 24, Boston 21—The Bills had their troubles early and so did Pats but both have been rolling recently. With everything hanging in the balance, we have to go with the Bills on solid line and better defense.

San Diego 21, Houston 17—Both teams out of the race. Oilers going with youth have been playing toughest teams in recent starts. San Diego needs a win to stay over .500.

Denver 21, Miami 20—Welcome home Cookie Gilchrist! First trip of Cookie to Denver since the big explosion. Dick Wood passing for Dolphins who beat Denver earlier 24-7.

Big Eight Teams Play To Standoff

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rodger Bohnstiehl of Kansas was up to old tricks, Oklahoma's Big Three looked good and Kansas State lost a heartbreaker Thursday night as Big Eight basketball teams opened with a 3-3 standoff against outside teams.

The quick 6-foot-6 Bohnstiehl who specialized in coming off the bench and wrecking opposition last year, came in to get 25 points as Kansas' defending league champs won 73-57 at Arkansas. Ron Franz added 18, including 10 in a five-minute span in the first half.

Oklahoma whipped a TCU club rated No. 2 in the South-west conference, 90-76 at Norman, with Willie Rogers getting 29 points, 6-8 Don Sidle 28 and 6-4 Jim Johnson 22 points.

K-State struggled under the handicap of 29 per cent shooting at Manhattan, but made up a 10 point second half deficit only to lose to Minnesota, 60-59 on a free throw by Leroy Gardner with 8 seconds left.

K-State's 6-10 Roy Smith was still limping with a severe thigh injury and 6-7 Earl Seyfert needed backboard help. Minnesota held a 58-43 rebound margin as 6-7, 225-pound John Kondra grabbed 23 and scored 33 points.

Iowa State needed the 22-point outside shooting of John McGonigle to squeeze by State College of Iowa 79-78 at Cedar Falls, as SCI's 6-7 rookie, Ken Huelman, scored 31 on 14-for-21 shooting and grabbed 18 rebounds.

Colorado lost 76-67 at Texas Tech and Oklahoma State was nudged 78-76 by Creighton at Oklahoma City in other games involving Big Eight teams.

Jack Herron led OSU with 20 points, while 6-7 sophomore Bill Christopher scored 17 and Jim Feamster, veteran 6-4 pivot, added 14.

Bob Bauers with 23 points helped Colorado overcome a 38-29 Tech halftime lead, only to see Tech go ahead to stay with 1:38 left. Lynn Baker had 18 and Pat Frink 16 for the Buffs. Both were knee cases last year.

Kansas had balanced scoring with Jo Jo White scoring 11 and 6-8, 240-pound sophomore Vernon Vanoy adding 10.

Nebraska's title favorites open the season tonight in Lincoln against Oregon. A seven-game Saturday night card finds Ohio State at Iowa State, Oregon at K-State, Oklahoma at Seattle, Arkansas at Missouri, Xavier of Ohio at Kansas, Wyoming at Oklahoma State and Colorado at Tulsa.

Wide-Margin Victories In Tourney

School of the Osage and the Jefferson City Jays both emerged victorious by wide margins in play in the Tipton Tournament Thursday night.

Osage whipped the Sweet Springs Greyhounds, 60-32. The Greyhounds got off to a good start in the first period, but then fell behind the rest of the way. Osage did nothing but advance.

Leading scorers for Osage were Steve Bateman and Charles Ash with 14 each. High for Sweet Springs was Randy Fisher with 13, followed by Don Knipmeyer with 11.

In the nightcap, the Jays easily overcame Jefferson City Helias, 53-39. The Jays were hot throughout the contest with consistent scoring.

Leading the way for the Jays was Randy Ketchum with 11, ably assisted by Mike Haynes and Mike Farmer with 10 each. Eric Thompson and Darrell Pringer shared scoring honors for Helias with 12 hits each.

In semi-final action Friday, Sedalia Sacred Heart will meet Sweet Springs at 7:30 p.m. and Versailles will vie with Tipton at 9 p.m.

Score by quarters:

Osage 12 14 17 17-60
Sweet Springs 13 5 8 6-32

Jays 11 12 16 14-53

Clubs Will Finance Big Pension Plan

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Major league baseball clubs have agreed to finance an $8.2-million pension plan in which a player could receive as much as $1,000 a month at age 65.

Under the terms of the new plan — the cost of which has been shared by both owners and players in the past — a player, manager, coach or trainer who was active for 10 years will receive approximately $500 a month at the age of 50. That's twice as much as in the past.

If the individual leaves his retirement income in the plan until he is 65, he would receive about $1,000 a month.

Under the old plan the owners contributed $2.7 million compared with the $4.1 million they will finance now over a two-year period.

At the same time as he revealed the pension plan Thursday, Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association, disclosed that the players were seeking an increase in the minimum major league salary from $7,000 to $12,000. He said the proposal would be discussed at a later date.

The American League, meanwhile, adopted the more liberal National League rule on a manager going out to the mound to talk to a pitcher.

An American League manager now can visit his pitcher at least once an inning. Before he had to take his pitcher out the second time he visited him during a game. The second time he talks to him during an inning, however, he must take him out.

Cleveland Williams Suffers Knockout

HOUSTON (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Cleveland (Big Cat) Williams, who suffered a third-round technical knockout at the hands of champion Cassius Clay last month, says he is hanging up his gloves.

He officially announced his retirement from the ring Thursday at a news conference. Williams said he will receive about $42,000 clear money from the title fight Nov. 14 in the Astro-dome.

Williams, 33, almost died two years ago when he was shot in the abdomen in a scuffle with a highway patrolman. However, he recovered and staged a comeback that climaxed in his title shot against Clay.

The loss to Clay was Williams' 72nd professional fight. He won 65, lost six and fought one draw.

Mike Lynn Suspended From Team Activity

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA basketball starter, Mike Lynn, arrested on suspicion of forgery, has been suspended from play, says the UCLA athletic department.

Lynn, 21-year-old senior from Covina, Calif., and Larry McCollister, 21, Lemon Grove, Calif., were arrested Wednesday after allegedly trying to buy phonograph records at a department store with a credit card previously reported lost.

$23,000 At Stake For Champion Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Each player on the team winning the professional football championship may receive a bonanza of $23,000, a record for a team sport.

The pay for two games would almost double the all-time high of $12,794 for a baseball World Series winner for a minimum of four games. The Los Angeles Dodgers of 1963 hold the baseball record.

When the National Football League and American Football League winners meet in the first Super Bowl at the 83,000-capacity Los Angeles Coliseum in early January, each winner will get a guaranteed $15,000 and each loser $7,500. That breaks down to $250 a minute for each of the winners.

If the NFL game is played in the big Cotton Bowl in Dallas, a strong possibility, the winning share should match the record

Six Game Sweep By MVC Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As expected, Missouri Valley basketball powers scored a six-game opening night sweep, five at home, and by margins ranging from 8 to 45 points, mostly against small college foes.

All Valley teams are idle tonight, but the going gets tougher Saturday night with a full eight-game card, including Northern Michigan at Bradley, Cincinnati at Wisconsin, North Dakota State at Drake, Georgetown at Louisville, North Texas at Trinity, Dayton at St. Louis, Colorado at Tulsa and Wichita at Texas Tech.

Louisville and Wichita will be playing their season openers. Cincinnati's defending Valley champs crushed George Washington 85-61 with 6-foot-6 Mike Rolf getting 21 points and 6-4 John Howard 17. Rick Roberson 6-9 rookie center, got 13 for the 10th-ranked Cincy club.

St. Louis had some good news, with 7-foot Rich Niemann scoring in 26 and dominating the boards in a 101-56 romp over Quincy, Ill. Bradley's 6-6 Joe Allen had a 29-point night in an 89-77 victory over North Dakota.

North Texas, which lost its last 19 games a year ago—14 in the Valley—opened with a 77-67 victory over Southwestern Louisiana. Drake had all five starters scoring in double figures, led by Bob Netolicky with 20 points, in an 84-68 victory over Wisconsin State of Oshkosh.

Tulsa, the only Valley team playing on the road, held off a late rally to beat St. Mary's 66-58 at San Antonio. Tex. Robert Washington, a talented 6-sophomore, had 19 and 6-foot Eldridge Webb 16 for Tulsa.

The date of the stocking has not been set.

Cardinals In Game

Sunday Showdown In NFL Division

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sunday is showdown day in the National Football League's Eastern Division and Dallas has a little more to show than St. Louis.

The Cowboys and Cardinals, tied for first place in the East with 8-2-1 records, clash in Dallas with the top rung at stake. And the Cowboys are better prepared physically for this big one.

The last time they played, Dallas and St. Louis battled to a 10-10 tie but the Cardinals had Charley Johnson at quarterback then. Johnson was sidelined for the season by a knee injury Nov. 6 and Terry Nofsinger will be at the controls Sunday.

St. Louis has split two games since Johnson was injured, scoring nine points — all of them on the accurate toe of Jim Bakken's right foot. The Cards squeezed past Pittsburgh 6-3 on two Bakken field goals last Sunday.

Dallas, meanwhile, has put together the most potent attack in the NFL. The Cowboys, with Don Meredith calling the plays, have scored 366 points — 71 more than any other team in the league.

And while the Cardinals and Cowboys battle for the lead, the Cleveland Browns will try to keep their title hopes alive against the New York Giants at Municipal Stadium. The Browns are third in the Eastern race.

In other NFL games Sunday, San Francisco is at Green Bay, Chicago visits Baltimore, Detroit is in Los Angeles, Pittsburgh takes on Philadelphia and Minnesota hosts Atlanta.

The Browns trail the co-leaders by 1½ games and must count on each of them losing twice. LeRoy Kelly will be out to regain his rushing lead from Chicago's Gale Sayers. The Giants are still licking their wounds from last week's record-shattering 72-41 rout in Washington.

Baltimore, trailing Green Bay by two games in the West, must stop Sayers, who is only 43 yards shy of 1,000 yards rushing. The Colts face elimination should they lose and the Packers beat San Francisco.

Green Bay will be out to avenge a 21-20 early season setback suffered against the 49ers.

Goalie Sums Up Reason For Victory

DETROIT (AP) — "Everybody played well. We needed to win and got it," said Detroit Red Wing goalie Hank Bassen.

Bassen, substituting for Roger Crozier in the nets, had just helped the Wings to a 4-1 blasting of the Boston Bruins in the only National Hockey League game Thursday night. The victory snapped a six-game Red Wing losing streak.

Detroit Manager-Coach Sid Abel said of Bassen, "Now that we've won one I don't want to take him out. He'll start Saturday, I expect, against Toronto."

The victory left the Wings still in last place, three points behind Boston and Montreal.

By Ned Lindstrom

Since TV is our business, we have decided to get into the act — as Durante would say—and do a little talking of our own. In fact, we're going to drop around every week in this newspaper and talk about what's new in the field. We'll have notes about the stars, interesting items about behind-the-scenes doings and a lot of interesting information. We hope that you'll join us here every week and let us know how you like our comments.

We hope, too, that you will make our shop your first source of supply and service in Television and Radio. See our beautiful, faultlessly performing sets. Let us advise you on the repairs of that present set . . . to put it into tip-top shape. Come in today to THE RADIO SHOP, 112 South Ohio, in Sedalia. Phone: TA 6-6370 . . . Sales of new and used sets . . . Stereo—Quality Repairs.

KINGSTREE, S. C. — Joe Williamson, a farmer who plans to get out of farming, starts dismantling a tent Thursday outside the Williamsburg County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. He and J. M. Way spent four chilly nights in the tent so they would be first in line when the ASCS began taking applications for Federal money to be allotted to farmers for not growing crops. Other farmers said the two probably got the bulk of the country's allocation under the first-come-first-serve set-up. (UPI)

Pro-French Tinged Cabinet

Kiesinger Named To Head Unprecedented Coalition

BONN, Germany (AP) — Kurt Georg Kiesinger, once a Nazi, was named chancellor Thursday to head a government welding his Christian Democrats to the Social Democrats in a coalition without precedent in West Germany. He promptly named a Cabinet with a pro-French tinge.

The vice chancellor will be Social Democrat Willy Brandt, who ceased to be mayor of West Berlin when he was sworn into the Cabinet. Brandt also will hold the post of foreign minister and thus may be able to brake any policy shift toward France that might damage U.S. relations.

As head of the Social Democratic party, Brandt is a strong advocate of firm ties with Washington. His party has been the chief opposition to the ruling Christian Democrats through the 17-year history of the Federal Republic.

Kiesinger, himself known for his attachment to France, named, as finance minister, Franz Joseph Strauss, the former defense minister.

St. Louisan To Seek Office As U. S. Senator

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — William McKinley Thomas, 70, St. Louis filed Thursday for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator in 1968.

His opponent will be Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Bowling Green who filed Wednesday.

Long was appointed to the Senate in 1960 to succeed the late Thomas C. Hennings, resigning as lieutenant governor to become senator. He was elected to the Senate for a full term later that year.

A lawyer and banker, Long formerly was a state senator, prosecuting attorney of Pike County and Bowling Green city attorney.

Thomas once was a Republican. He has run for office nine times, including unsuccessful races for senator, governor, congressman and alderman.

He runs a credit collection agency.

Large Call For Bids On Road Work

The Missouri State Highway Commission is closing out the 1966 calendar year with a call for bids on highway construction and improvements on about 162 miles of state's highways, it was learned Thursday.

The call is set for Thursday, Dec. 15, and is estimated at $24 million. Money-wise, this is the largest call for road work bids since December, 1964.

Included in this request for bids are 19.8 miles of Interstate system projects estimated to cost $17,500,000; for 65.4 miles of primary and 2.3 miles of urban system work estimated at $4,500,000; and for 74.6 miles of secondary (farm to market) system projects estimated at $2,000,000.

Projects including this area, listed by counties, are:

- Lafayette: Interstate Route 70 — highway beautification (the planting of trees and shrubs) along a 33.4-mile stretch from the Jackson county line east to the Saline county line.
- Cass-Johnson: Route 2 (C) — 14.2 miles bituminous mat surfacing from Harrisonville east to Route 22.
- Henry: Route 18 (E) — 15.1 miles bituminous mat surfacing from the Bates County line east to Clinton.
- Monteau-Miller: Route CC — 1.4 miles grading, culverts, bridging and surfacing northwest and south of High Point. Includes a 195-foot continuous I-beam bridge over South Moreau Creek; a 194-foot like structure over Burris Fork Branch; and a 105-foot I-beam bridge over Medlen Creek.

Servicemen Movement Slackening For Viet Nam Duty Comes To Light

Three New Allied Field Operations Announced

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A slackening in the movement of U.S. servicemen to Viet Nam came to light Thursday even as spokesmen announced three new allied field operations. Only a thousand GIs arrived last week, against the 1966 average of more than 3,000 a week.

American rolls edged up to 361,000. Contact was reported generally light in ground campaigning, new and old. Stormy weather persisted over North Viet Nam, where monsoon rains limited U.S. pilots to 38 missions Wednesday.

U.S. B52 jets blasted at Viet Cong huts and slit trenches discovered in a woods only 27 miles northwest of Saigon. A later aerial check detected no sign of life in the churned landscape. Another wave of the B52s raided an enemy storage center 18 miles northwest of Quant Ngai, on the central coast.

Statistics figured largely in military briefings. U.S. officials said Viet Cong defections reached a peak of 2,505 last month, boosting to more than 45,000 the number giving up since South Viet Nam instituted its open arms program nearly four years ago. The previous monthly record was 2,336 in March.

Though over-all allied losses were down, some sharp fighting in the central highlands shortly before Thanksgiving contributed to a rise in both American and enemy combat deaths last week.

The U.S. Command announced 143 Americans were killed, 709 wounded and two missing, against 100 killed, 749 wounded and none missing in the week of Nov. 13-19. The unofficial count of American dead in five years of war rose to 7,603. Of these 6,192 were in combat and 1,411 from accidents, disease and other nonhostile causes.

South Viet Nam's armed forces reported 159 men killed, down 89, and the other allies 26, up seven. The allied total of 328 combat deaths compared with 367 in the previous week.

American authorities said 1,422 of the Viet Cong and their North Vietnamese allies were killed, a sharp rise from the 905 Communist dead recorded in the previous reporting period.

From Da Nang came word that Montagnard tribal guides had led in 24 Vietnamese freed by their Viet Cong jailers from a Communist prison camp, perhaps because of food shortages.

The newly disclosed search and destroy missions, which have stirred up only scattered contacts, are:

Operation Bismarck — Conducted by units of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division 25 to 30 miles northeast of Saigon.

Operation Charleston — Other elements of the 1st Infantry Division reported no significant action from their sector, 20 miles southeast of Saigon.

Operation Ingham — Australian troops have been probing a coastal region centered about 50 miles southeast of Saigon since Nov. 14.

November Traffic Picture Not Good; Overall Improvement

Sedalia's traffic record for the month of November, 1966, compared to November of 1965 was not good; however, cumulative totals for the period beginning Jan. 1, 1966, and ending Dec. 1, 1966, have shown considerable improvement, according to statistics released by the Sedalia police.

There were 56 accidents and ten injuries this past November, compared to 51 accidents and only four injuries for November of 1965. For the year 1966 to date, 705 accidents have been recorded, with 186 injuries. This compares favorably with 639 accidents and 209 injuries on record for the same period of 1965. Fatalities this time last year numbered four, while this year only two have been recorded.

Killed In Accident

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Russell B. Ziegenhein, 22-year-old student at St. Louis University, was killed Thursday when his car and two others collided on U.S. 66 in Shrewsbury, a St. Louis suburb.

Hints At Tougher Code

Government Details Its 23 Auto Safety Proposals

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The federal government detailed Thursday the 23 proposed safety standards it thinks should be built into 1968 model cars. It hinted at a tougher code for the future.

Standards range from a ban on winged wheel nuts to the performance of brake systems and tires, and the placement and operation of lights.

Many of them already are part of the automobiles sold in this country. They are based mainly on industry standards and those used by the General Services Administration for government cars.

The Commerce Department, in making public the 76-page, 13,000-word document which will be published in the Federal Register, fixed Jan. 3 as the deadline for filing comments.

Alan S. Boyd, undersecretary of commerce for transportation, said the proposals could be changed after the comments are received.

Urge Caution In Leaving Homes Open

Chief of Police William E. Miller Thursday urged Sedalians to exercise additional caution during the Christmas season while shopping or leaving home for other reasons.

Miller said the usual precautions should be taken when a home is left empty. Lights should be left on and the home should give all indications of being occupied.

Besides the usual hazards of shopping in crowded stores or walking on crowded streets, Miller said Sedalians should be sure their Christmas purchases are put in the correct car.

He said the department had received reports of "stolen" packages on several occasions. And at least once, a Sedalian came to the police station with a Christmas package he found in his car — and it didn't belong there.

Miller said packages should be placed in the trunks of cars, not in the passenger area. Vehicles should be locked at all times, he said.

Women shoppers are urged to keep a tighter grip on their purses in the intensified shopping season. Professional thieves, Miller said, can empty a purse without the owner being aware of it. A good, solid hold, however, can discourage would-be thieves, he added.

The police will have one plainclothes officer in the downtown area during the Christmas shopping season, Miller said.

Under law, the department's final version of the interim standards must be published by Jan. 31.

It was Boyd who hinted at tougher standards in the future when he said: "the proposed initial standards should not be taken as indicative of the scope and content of the revised standards to come later."

Boyd has said the interim standards will be upgraded later but it would be impractical now to insist on standards which the industry is physically incapable of meeting.

The Federal Register is used by government agencies and departments to advise the public of action planned or already taken.

The 23 proposed standards were outlined earlier this week in a Detroit speech by William Haddon Jr., director of the National Highway Safety Agency, part of the Commerce Department.

Thursday's document merely spelled out the technical and legal details of those proposals.

One provision would require the hinged seats of two-door sedans to be equipped with a self-locking device to prevent the seat from tipping forward when the vehicle is in motion.

Another would require two headrests for the front seat to reduce whiplash injury. The industry is already on record against this, contending more research is needed in this field.

The proposals don't specifically require a collapsible steering post. The section on steering mechanisms is based on GSA standards requiring an energy-absorbing steering mechanism.

United States Postal Savings certificates totaling $18,919, which are on deposit at the Sedalia Post Office, are now earning little or no interest for 114 local depositors, Postmaster Maurice Hogan revealed Thursday.

Nationwide, the Post Office Department is holding more than $147 million in the now obsolete program which was discontinued by the Congress on March 28, 1966.

As of April 27, 1966, Postal Savings were discontinued, and no deposits were accepted by the Post Office Department. Certificates whose anniversary dates have been reached since last April 26 have earned their final interest payment. Those whose anniversary dates fall between now and next April 26 will receive interest until their anniversary dates, but they can be cashed at any time and a proportionate amount of interest will be paid.

After April 26, 1967, no interest will be earned by any Postal Savings Postmaster Hogan said.

Postmaster Hogan suggests that all Postal Savings depositors close out their accounts as soon as convenient so they can put their funds to more productive use. He also reminded depositors that U. S. Savings Bonds paying a current rate of 4.15 per cent interest, if held to maturity, are an excellent investment for both safety and income.

On July 1 of next year, remaining funds in the program will be turned over to the Treasury Department. There they will be deposited in a trust fund, where they will remain available for payment without time limitation whenever proper claims are received.

Miller said packages should be placed in the trunks of cars, not in the passenger area. Vehicles should be locked at all times, he said.

Women shoppers are urged to keep a tighter grip on their purses in the intensified shopping season. Professional thieves, Miller said, can empty a purse without the owner being aware of it. A good, solid hold, however, can discourage would-be thieves, he added.

The police will have one plainclothes officer in the downtown area during the Christmas shopping season, Miller said.

Democrats Challenged By Officials

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Rep. Stephen Burns, a Republican representative-elect from St. Louis, Thursday filed with Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick a challenge to the qualifications of six Democratic representatives because they do not live in their St. Louis districts.

He referred to two sections of The Missouri Constitution as showing these men unqualified: Reps. Harry C. Raiffie, John P. O'Reilly, Thomas A. Walsh, Raymond Howard, Paul J. Simon and Franklin Payne.

"Under the constitution," Burns said in his challenge, "you are instructed not to seat these men."

"I suggest a committee of five Democrats and four Republicans to investigate this immediately."

"The courts have held that domicile rules and they have no power to hold office if they are not domiciled in their districts."

"The secretary of state, who will preside over the House of Representatives (at the opening session) must make these rulings and he has the official power to rule on the subject."

Raiffie's right to run in his district because he lives outside the district was previously challenged in St. Louis Circuit Court. But the court held it had no jurisdiction because the House and Senate are the judges of the qualifications of their members.

Kirkpatrick said he planned to confer with the attorney general about the situation.

Christmas Exhibit Being Held Friday

The Christmas exhibit of creative decorations will be held Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at Farm and Home Savings Building, Fourth and Osage, downstairs.

Garden Club members present this show each season to give ideas for those of the area who would like to make decorations and for the enjoyment of all who wish to see them. This is a community service by the Council of Garden Clubs.

Poking a Hornets' Nest

A proposal to fill in Liberty Park lagoon and convert it into additional picnic and parking grounds is like poking up a hornets' nest insofar as public reaction is concerned.

The suggestion has generated innumerable vocal protests and provided animated discussion in social and civic club groups. Some persons have become so riled up about abolishing the lagoon that they are like an ill-tempered bear with a sore head.

Consensus so far is that the picturesque spot should not be eliminated but rather that the city fathers and park board find some method by which the little lake could be renovated and maintained thereafter.

The reason the lake is in such bad shape today is because maintenance has been neglected to the point where expensive repairs are now necessary. Maintenance of such things can't be accomplished when the park budget won't allow it.

Thus the lagoon becomes a headache. So to cure the pain let's cut off the head instead of spending money for an aspirin.

Some mention is made that to repair the walls would cost as much as $20,000, and even then the water would remain stagnant because the only renewal of it is from surface drainage. To correct this, would also be expensive. Moreover, the city can't afford to have a little stream of fresh water piped in from the water department which the city owns! We'd have to obtain permission for this from the bond holders, maybe?

Then there is the bridge which needs renewal, etc. If we ever get around to that—how about a small wooden replica of the old Covered Bridge for use of pedestrians going to and from the island?

Another anti-lagoon argument is that the city can't get federal aid to repair Liberty Park lake, but it can get financial help to build a new lake in another spot—such as Centennial Park, a proposal which city council has already approved!

Have local Republican officials become so brainwashed that they think they can't do anything anymore without help from the Great Society's centralized bureaucracy?

Excuses, excuses, excuses! A whole catalogue of them may be compiled to justify the reasoning of those who want to abolish Liberty Park lagoon.

Central Missourians have cherished this pretty little spot in our major park and want it retained.

While looking with jaundiced eye in the direction of the city fathers responsible for the ultimate decision about forced evaporation of the lagoon, people are inclined to agree with Elbert Hubbard:

"Don't make excuses — make good!"

Keep Liberty Park lagoon alive.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A guard of honor, including a color guard and firing squad, will be formed by Pettis County Post No. 16 of the American Legion for attendance at funerals of Legionnaires in the county. Sedalia was the first of 49 posts to exceed its membership drive quota for the year, swelling its ranks to over 100 above last year's figure. Richard Woods was elected chairman of the entertainment committee and Walter Pinkepank chairman of the Sons of the Legion committee.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Miss Mary English, assistant librarian at the Sedalia Public Library has taken a six month's leave of absence and gone to Kansas City where she will be employed in the cataloging department of the Central Library. Miss Mildred English accepted a position in the same department of that library a few weeks ago.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Romney Starts Organizing For 1968

DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Offers to support the ex-actor salesman, Gov. George Romney, for the GOP presidential nomination have poured in from top Republicans in twenty-five states.

Romney has now held secret strategy sessions in Washington with an advisory committee that includes two former GOP chairmen — Leonard Hall and Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. They were optimistic over Romney's chances of winning the nomination.

They were confident that Romney would take all the big presidential swing states except possibly California and Ohio. They figured that New York would nullify California; and Michigan would cancel out Ohio. This would still leave Romney with enough big delegations to win the nomination. They speculated that Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen, seeing the handwriting on the voting-booth wall, would join Senator-elect Charles Percy in lining up the Illinois delegation for Romney.

Most of the other big states from Pennsylvania to Texas are believed to be safe. Even Barry Goldwater, who has made no secret of his dislike for Romney, may be compelled to go along with him. Goldwater wants to return to the Senate from a state that is predominantly Mormon, and would lose support for his own election in Arizona if he opposed a Mormon for president.

Note — American Motors, which Romney once headed, took its worst slump in ten years when it announced this week a loss of $12,600,000 for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1966. It was the worst since 1956 when Romney was general manager and chairman and the company lost $25,400,000. Romney assumed control in 1954, left in 1962 to run for Governor of Michigan. Stockholders say he was a great salesman and wish fervently he was back.

Politics and Groceries

There is some indication that the housewives' boycott of supermarkets got a little political push from the Republicans just before the recent elections in order to remind voters of "Johnson's inflation."

The lady picketers in Seattle, Los Angeles and San Francisco, for instance all had the same kits. In Colorado more recently, Matt Mateyka, a Denver Republican, has been enlisted as "Political Director" of the National Housewives for Lower Prices, organized by Mrs. Ruth Kane of Aurora, Colo.

This column, checking into food facts, has

MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL:

Speaking of Buildings. — Dispatches from Moscow lately have told of 16-story apartment buildings in the suburbs that remain largely unoccupied because someone forgot to install elevators. Pravda, the official newspaper of the Communist party, has registered open complaints and has said that similar conditions exist in numerous other Soviet cities.

Well, at first we figured on casting a few stones at the Soviet bunglers and then we thought about the fantastic cost incurred and fabulous inefficiency displayed over here in the construction and furnishing of the new House Office Building in Washington. Our final decision was to call it off by saying that mistakes are bound to happen. No stone-casting is indicated because we live in a glass house, figuratively speaking.

come up with some conflicting contentions. The Federal Trade Commission, for instance, in its comprehensive study of prices, states: "Leading food chains in 1965 earned 12.1 per cent after taxes, which happened to be the same profit for leading food manufacturers."

"The earnings rate for leading food chains as a group has averaged 11.5 per cent during the 1960's, as compared with 13.1 per cent during the 1950's," the Federal Trade Commission also found.

This is in direct contrast to the statement made by food chain executives that their profits are around 1.3 per cent; seldom over 2 per cent.

To get an explanation of the striking difference in these figures, we tried to reach Clarence Adams, head of the National Association of Food Chains. He was never available for comment. He was so unavailable that it led to the conclusion that the Federal Trade Commission, long a trusted agency of Government, was right regarding food chain profits.

Food-Facts

However, here are some further facts which, in fairness, should be noted:

1. The U.S. factory worker today can buy more food for an hour's wage than he could in 1947-49. Wages have doubled in that period; yet food prices have increased only 33 per cent. This is due in part to bulk buying and the efficient operation of chain stores.

2. Housewives now demand foods and mixes prepared in advance. This is the envy of European housewives because it has emancipated American women as slaves of the kitchen. However, deboning chicken, cutting meat, preparing TV dinners, etc., adds to the food cost.

3. Certain basic food commodities necessarily have increased. The price of milk has been so low during the past ten years that thousands of dairy farmers went out of business. As a result the cow population of the United States was dangerously reduced. Under the free enterprise law of supply and demand, this scarcity of cows sent up the price of milk.

If we're going to stay with the capitalist system and the low of supply and demand, we have to live with higher prices when food is scarce! If we want a Socialist system we can take over the food chains, the farms, and the food processing companies and try to regulate food prices and food sales. Those are the alternatives.

Highlights In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Sunday Nov. 27, the 331st day of 1966. There are 34 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1703, a storm wrecked seven English warships and demolished a lighthouse. The loss in London was estimated at about $10 million. Eight-thousand persons were said to have been killed in the Severn and Thames river valleys.

On this date: In 1940, Nazi Germany an-nexed the French province of Lorraine.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull conferred with Japanese envoys in Washington.

In 1943, the South American republic of Colombia declared a state of hostility with Germany.

In 1944, Cordell Hull resigned as secretary of state and Edward Stettinius Jr. was named to replace him.

Ten years ago—In the face of mounting concern over an apparent rift in the Big Three Western alliance, President Eisenhower issued a statement denying that differences over the Suez crisis had weakened the U.S.-British-French accord on NATO.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy named former Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles to be his special representative and adviser on African, Asian and Latin-American affairs.

One year ago — A chartered airliner crashed near Salt Lake City, killing all 112 persons aboard.

Just 28 Days To Go

Well Thanksgiving Day is over
And the comments now should hush
About Christmas and its splendor
Being given too much rush,
The flipping of the calendar
Throughout the year so far
Somehow kinda scares me
When I think how close we are;
I'm not exactly certain
Why this year I seemed to wait,
Other years my cookie baking
Has been started by this date,
Other years I've gifts purchased
Long with paper, seals and bows
But this year, less than one month away,
And as swiftly as time goes —
Of course the folks who worry
'Bout the early Christmas season
Will I know, not find themselves
Like me, puffin' and wheezin'
Cuttin' and bakin' cookies
Making candy and fruit cake
Peggin' along past bedtime
So tired and half awake;
They never with feet a-hurtin'
Wander from store to store
And back again to the first one,
To see that blouse once more,
Now should I buy this one
Or the one that is green and black,
Chances are I pick the wrong one
And have to take it back;
Over my list I check again,
A vase, a teapot, a book
Hours that I spend before Christmas
And look and look and look,
There is Christmas decorating,
There is the trimming of the tree,
There are all the cards to address
With not a moment that's free,
Gifts to wrap up fancy,
Packages to send away,
When Christmas lights start burning
Boy, it's not too far away,
I'm certain it's plenty early
For those who moan and fret,
But me—well I've run out of time
Every Christmas season yet,
From the time lights start to twinkle
Until dawn's Christmas day,
Time like a new wet snowfall
Just quickly melts away.

Win At Bridge

Expert Thrives On Deception

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you watch the average declarer follow suit he almost always plays his lowest card. Experts have a tendency to mix them up. Sometimes they have a reason, other times they are merely keeping in practice so as not to form a pattern.

All of this is part of declarer's strategy. He does not want to let his opponents know that he has played his lowest card. There is a lot more strategy possible in the play of high cards.

Here is another old timer from Fred Karpin's book on strategy.

South is declarer at three no-trump. His normal play is to win East's jack of spades with the queen. Then he goes over to dummy with a heart and tries the diamond finesse. If it works he makes a lot of tricks but this time it loses and West is likely to abandon spades and go after clubs. If he does this the defense will pick up four quick club tricks and South will be one down.

The expert in deception will win the first trick with the ace instead of the queen. Then he will lose the same diamond finesse but it is dollars to doughnuts that West will continue spades. South will make his queen of spades after all and go about his business of winning the rubber.

South's false-card would have been a poor play in match point duplicate because it would cost him an overtrick if the diamond finesse won. In rubber bridge he could afford to give up this overtrick. Of course, if West shifted to a club anyway the false-card would really be expensive. East would cash five clubs and then give his partner four spade tricks.

Missouri Legislature

Capitol To Feel Weight Of Various New Interests

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—If you think Missouri's state governmental situation is confused now, wait until the legislature meets in January.

All the signs indicate that every special interest in the state will be patrolling the Capitol corridors to test this new and untried, reapportioned legislature.

You can look for a record number of bills. Every old dog that has ever been before the General Assembly probably will be resubmitted with new hope that the change complexion of the legislature may give it a chance this time.

As everyone knows, there are more urban oriented members this time than ever before as a result of redistricting in both the House and Senate.

But whether this will make any significant difference is still unknown. In the past, members from the St. Louis and Kansas City areas often have feuded among themselves.

And the occasions when members from the two metropolitan centers have worked together have been rare indeed.

On the surface it would seem that such bills as liberalizing the liquor laws and setting up an urban affairs department like the one Gov. Warren E. Hearnes has proposed would have a better chance of passage.

This almost certainly will be true in the case of the urban affairs proposal, where some preliminary groundwork already has been laid.

Besides, chances for legislation backed by the governor were greatly enhanced last week when a majority of the House Democrats nominated Rep. James E. Godfrey of St. Louis as speaker, with the governor's active support.

And last session the governor had a few problems with the Senate, where no major changes in the leadership are foreseen. The Senate Democrats will caucus Dec. 5 to make their choices.

Another confusing factor will be the many new faces in the House, with a heavy population of lawmakers who do not even know the rules, let alone the intricacies involved in getting a bill passed or killed.

As to the liquor bills, you can expect measures for modified Sunday sale, opening resort areas in unincorporated areas to liquor and the battered old bill to permit sale at Lambert-St. Louis airport.

The governor already has indicated he will recommend increased state aid to public schools under the foundation program and the Commission on Higher Education has recommended 50 per cent state aid for junior colleges plus increased appropriations for other colleges and universities.

It's a cinch the advocates of the shared time bill will be back, along with the advocates of allowing parochial school students to ride public school buses — both potentially explosive measures.

A severance tax bill to levy a tax on minerals taken from the ground is in the works and the mining people are already gathering their forces to combat this one.

There has been talk, also, of a bill to abolish city cigarette taxes and increase the state tax with a share reverting to the cities as in the case of the shared gasoline tax proposal.

Undoubtedly there will be a renewed battle over highway beautification if as predicted the federal government refuses to accept the watered down laws passed by the 1966 session after a long battle.

And a big question mark will be how far Missouri is willing to go to meet federal requirements under Title 19 of the Medicare program — the so-called Medicaid program with its unknown costs and consequences.

That will be one of the factors in the biggest test of all—what this untested legislature will do in facing up to the fiscal facts of life.

The governor is adamant that there will be no new taxes in his first four-year term and plans to start preliminary budget discussions with appropriations leaders next week. Actual budget review hearings with state agencies will come later.

Some will understand there is only so much money to go around. Some undoubtedly will fight for more than the governor's recommendations.

Of course there will be the problem of staffing and equipping the three new intensive mental treatment centers and the nine mental retardation clinics—and the rapidly expanding branches of the University of Missouri at Kansas City and St. Louis.

Letters To The Editor

DAN BURGENDER (404 East 2nd St.) — America's greatest living essayist once defended Thoreau's "Walden Pond" against its critics saying, "To reject the book because of the immaturity of the author and the bugs in the logic is to throw away a bottle of good wine because it contains bits of cork." This comparison returned to me when I read your Wednesday editorial and learned that Mayor Walker proposes to destroy the Liberty Park lagoon — also because of bugs.

Sedalia has her glad sights, but not so many she wouldn't suffer with the loss of any one of them.

I don't like paved parks. Bugs simply don't distress me that much.

JACK L. GOLD, Rt. 4, Windsor) — As a former resident of Sedalia, one who was born and raised here, I want to state to you that I am in complete agreement with your editorial about the Liberty Park lagoon. I read the editorial this evening while I was in Sedalia for Thanksgiving and I have written Mayor Walker voicing my feelings and disapproval of in any manner doing away with the lagoon in Liberty Park.

MRS. EMMA SHAW (619 West 3rd St.) — Did the lady from Smithton realize how many Arts and Crafts bazaars we have in Sedalia? Churches, Schools, sales and Kansas City and St. Louis so close and every store, magazine has something handmade, homemade or what have you! Please don't blame Sedalia people for not buying your crafts. Many talented women go to bazaars to copy things because they are all able to make them. And they are happy for a few new ideas if they see any. It isn't because they don't know nice things. Maybe they have them running out their ears and can't use more!

BERRY'S WORLD

"But, Honey, if you've GOT to look like somebody—how about RAQUEL WELCH instead of 'TWIGGY'?"

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

CONSTRUCTIVE?—Junior's tool belt could be of help to Dad on occasions. This sample shows that all of today's "toys" are not frivolous or destructive, such as ray guns, tank and so on. This kit comes complete with hammer, pliers, screwdriver, ruler, flashlight and belt that holds everything together.

GOT A BUTTON TO MEND?—If so, just tell little Mary and she'll tend to it. If she's ambitious, she can go as far as to make clothes for her doll with this electrically operated sewing machine. This "toy" is only one of many examples of the realism being given to today's playthings. In some ways, it helps teach youngsters just what being grown-up is like.

FOR THE SPORTSMAN — This scaled-down version of a billiard table has a look of realism so strong even the photographer tried it out. He missed three shots out of three, proving that this toy, like many others, may take skill to appreciate. The table comes in several models, with or without legs, for example. The price is surprisingly low.

Toyland Abounds With Gay Variety For '66 Christmas

By Peter F. Daniels

The variety of children's toys is endless, as is the ingenuity of the toy manufacturers. Only a few examples are illustrated here. Just about every store in the city is getting its supplies of Christmas material ready, and the stock is moving out the front door as fast as it comes in the back—sometimes faster.

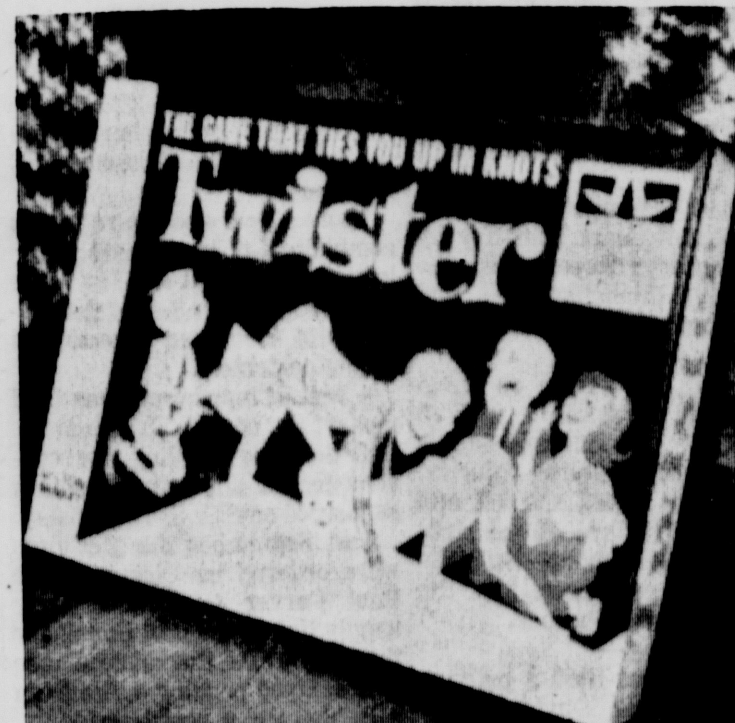

What Sammy gets for Christmas depends on Santa's helpers—namely Mom and Dad. With the proper toys, little Sammy could probably move the dog's house into the neighbor's yard. Or, for that matter, he could excavate the whole thing, given enough time.

Little Mary can do as much in her make-believe house with "toys" which will let her not only wash and clean her doll's clothes, but dry and press them as well. If that isn't enough, she can have an oven which cooks, believe it or not, or a sewing machine just like Mommie's.

Perhaps it's traditional for toys to imitate the reality of the adult world. But the way things are headed now, it may become traditional for adults to imitate the products of the toy makers. Almost anything mechanical exists today in a scaled-down version, ranging from space capsules straight through to tiny harvesters—and all of it works. No wonder Dad has so much fun on Christmas morning.

IT REALLY WORKS—This little item, looking like the real McCoy, actually works. It washes and dries clothes like the big machines it was modeled after. Though only a plastic toy, it gives the little miss of the house an idea of what Mommie does on washdays.

TRICKY GAME—Called the "game that ties you up in knots," is contained in this box and can be a real back-breaker. There's a round thingamajig divided into sections, each section a different color. You spin a needle and it indicates where you put your hands and feet. You do that on a "mat" which comes with the game. By the time you're half way through the game, you can be so tired, twisted and shackled your bones'll creak.

SEEKS SPOTLIGHT—This is the latest thing in toys. It rivals those slot cars that race around on tracks. This set can be stretched out anywhere. The coil on the left determines how far. It comes either with a car, as shown here, or a rocket-firing tank. This is one of the fastest moving items available, according to Sedalia merchants.

IT'S JUST A TOY—Nevertheless, volunteer fire fighters during the great Chicago fire, looking back, might have envied its prototype. The ladders move, the wheels turn, and the realistic detail is as convincing as a youngster could want it. The only thing this toy doesn't do is put out fires. That may be next on the "new" list.

TRUCKS AND MORE TRUCKS—It may be an odd view, but shoppers are looking at it and buying. With toys as abundant as they are, store managers use all the space they can find. Included on this display are heavy-duty moving vans, earth movers, graders, dump trucks, tractors, pickups, cement mixers, etc. The realism behind these toys is carried to a logical end—they work.

SMALLER AND SMALLER — The packages are getting bigger, and some of the contents smaller, in toy-land. Inside this box is an electric train set which can be put up on a card table without fuss or bother. Easily stored, it doesn't call for basement-filling lay-outs, but offers the same satisfaction. This is one area where toys are small, but as enduring as ever. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

RAY GUN — You aim through a view-finder on the upper right of this picture, press a button and actually "see" your ray as it streaks for the target. Then, when the target is hit, a white "flash" lets you know you've disintegrated whatever it was you were aiming at. This toy is good for a quiet evening at home. Junior can demolish anything without doing any actual damage.

Complicated Election In Uruguay

By MORT ROSENBLUM
MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Uruguayans vote Sunday in just about the most complicated election Latin America has yet seen.

They will decide whether to replace the nine-man council of government with a single president. They will vote for members of the nine-man council and also for a single president. Votes on the plebiscite will be counted first and then, depending on which type of government the ballots say has won, the votes in the race for the council or presidency will be tallied.

In addition, Uruguayans will choose 99 congressmen, 33 senators, provincial executives and legislatures, city mayors and-or executive boards and hundreds of lesser officials.

Batteries of 209 ballots are set up in polling booths and the voter has to stuff his ballot envelope with at least a dozen choices.

But it is still more complicated — the plebiscite on the form of the national executive is not just a plain "yes" or "no." There are four drafts to choose from — one each by the major Colorado and National parties, one sponsored jointly by those two parties and one put forward by the Communists.

Any one of these requires a minimum of 550,000 votes to pass — half the vote cast, plus one, and not less than 35 per cent of the registered vote of 1.6 million.

Voting is not compulsory in Uruguay, as it is in most other Latin American countries, and this will tend to diffuse the vote even more. Not even the brash pundit dare predict the outcome, which the election board says should be known by Monday morning.

Uruguay, a nation of 2.6 million, adopted the Swiss-style "collegiate" system of government in 1951. Nine members, six from the majority party and three from the highest minority party, have made up the council.

But government by "nine wise men" has proved ineffectual. The two main parties agree a single president would be a better thing for the country. A recent poll showed three of four Uruguayans also favor it. Defenders of the present system claim it is a guarantee against the emergence of a dictator.

The campaign has been on a low key, even for this low-keyed country. Candidates have talked much but promised little, apparently not wanting to commit themselves too much in the face of surging inflation, labor agitation and popular discontent being grumbled on the beaches and in street corner cafes.

Fifteen parties have filed candidates for the presidency and the presidential candidates also are running for the council if that form of government is retained. But the fight is between the conservative Nationalist, or Blanco — White — party and the left-of-center Colorado — Red — party. The Colorados have no connection with communism despite the name.

Bear World Is Facing New Trouble

PITTSBURGH, N.J. (AP) — It's two dozen bears against six million people and as Lester G. MacNamara sees it, the people are going to win.

The bears' world is a loosely defined area made up mostly of Sussex County in North Jersey. If they wander out, they'll be shot — hopefully with just a tranquilizer dart to subdue them until they can be taken home.

A few bears have been wandering out. One tried to join a frightened Kinnelon housewife in front of her television set. Another nearly came to dinner at a Wayne inn.

State game officials laid in a fresh supply of tranquilizer darts. They also spread the word that bears are not dangerous unless provoked. They have asked police to help them capture the bears alive.

"But," says MacNamara, director of the State Division of

Boy Is Strangled By Hood Strings

MIFFLINBURG, Pa. (AP) — A boy was strangled Thursday, police said, when drawstrings on his hooded jacket became entangled in the power train of a tractor.

Police said Kenneth H. Knechel, 12, was working on his father's farm when the accident occurred.

Fish and Game, "there is no great future for bears in the state."

"What we have to do is fit them into the ecology of the state from the standpoint of the citizens. We can always have a few, but not a lot."

MacNamara says there are about 25 animals left of New Jersey's once-large black bear population. Most of them weigh between 150 and 200 pounds, and are mannerly.

"We want to at least keep track of them so they don't get into trouble," MacNamara said. Bears, he said, are only dangerous when they are wounded or when they are protecting their cubs.

Commission Given Title To Property

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Title to the 135-acre scenic Elephant Rocks in Iron County near Graniteville has been received by the state Conservation Commission as a gift.

It was received by mail Wednesday from the owners, Dr. and Mrs. John S. Brown of Towson, Md., the commission said. Brown is a retired geologist, formerly employed by the St. Joseph Lead Co.

Brown bought the site last year from the Hayward Granite Company so he could make a Thanksgiving gift of the rocky wonders to the state.

The commission said it intends to maintain the site as a scenic attraction.

OBITUARIES

Lucille Mahalovich (Sedalia)

Mrs. Lucille Mahalovich, 53, Route 5, died at the Bothwell Hospital at 1:20 a.m. Thursday. She had been ill for the past six months and had been a patient at the hospital for the past two weeks.

century" and realize that "legislation prohibiting discrimination in housing is good sense, good morals and good business."

He said they can contribute to their communities by helping "to encourage the breakup of the ghetto concept of existence, and to encourage the removal of substandard and blighted areas of housing that contribute so materially to crime and high taxes and delinquency."

Speck's Trial Will Not Be In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard F. Speck's trial on charges of murdering eight student nurses will be held somewhere away from Chicago.

Judge Herbert C. Paschen, in granting a defense motion Thursday for such a switch, said he will announce Dec. 19 the county in which the trial will be conducted.

Public Defender Gerald Getty, who represents Speck, had asked for a change in sites previously on grounds that the publicity the crime received in the city where it occurred would have an influence on Chicago jurors.

The eight victims were stabbed and strangled, one by one, in their living quarters on Chicago's South Side on July 14. The coverage of the case by Chicago media, Getty said, "created an unfair climate."

William Martin, assistant state's attorney, did not object to the change in venue, but he did say that Getty's "allegations stand unproven."

"We must not chance the people's rights," Martin said. "The effect, if any, of pretrial publicity upon the selection of a jury and on the ultimate disposition of a criminal case is a subtle thing and necessary to evaluate," Martin said.

"We believe the defendant can receive a fair trial in Cook County (Chicago) — but we cannot be assured. Appellate courts, some months or years hence, will support our view."

Getty did not ask for a different judge. Thus, Judge Paschen, on the order of the chief justice of the Illinois Supreme Court, could hear the case in another county.

The opinion in the Criminal Courts Building was that Getty and Martin will move with the trial. Both have spent weeks in preparing their cases.

Judge Paschen saluted the news reporting of the case.

"Since the advent of the case in my court," he said, "the reporting has been factual, and I have no complaint. It has been excellent. The press has respected the right of the defendant to a fair trial."

Missouri Will Develop New Education Plan

LINN, Mo. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton predicted Thursday night Missouri will develop a vocational-technical education program which will "center around specific skills to get and hold a job."

He said a recent study of ways for Missouri to improve its activities in this field will be released soon by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

The study was made by Prof. J. Chester Swanson of the University of California. He formerly was staff director for President Kennedy's national study on vocational education.

Eagleton made his comments in a speech prepared for delivery at Linn Technical Junior College.

He said vocational education should be available to all interested high school students, post-high school students whether they have graduated or not, youths and adults who want to upgrade their skills and youths with special needs such as the culturally deprived, the poorly motivated, the low achievers and so on.

At the same time "the content of a vocational education program has to be closely and continuously related to the demands and needs of the labor market," with total involvement of business and labor as well as schools.

He predicted the Swanson study "will serve as a significant guidepost in terms of modernizing, expanding and improving, both qualitatively and quantitatively, vocational-technical education in Missouri."

Concerned were some two dozen householders in the Pineville suburb and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McClure who had been supplying the community's water system from their artesian well.

Six years ago the McClures wanted to get out of the water business. They shut off the water. But the Missouri Public Service Commission held the operation was a public utility since the well had supplied Haverhurst's water since 1929.

A long series of actions before the courts and the Missouri PSC followed.

About a year ago the residents complained of inadequate water in the system. But the McClures contended it was due to deterioration of the water lines owned by the customers.

A writ of mandamus was filed against the couple, but the order was deferred pending the construction of a pipeline under a section of new U. S. 71 highway.

Last September the McClures were ordered by Circuit Judge Paul Carver to connect their supply line to the new line under the highway. But compliance was delayed pending a ruling on a motion for a new hearing.

Judge Carver denied the motion for the McClures made the necessary connections. They now have filed satisfaction of judgment.

New Issue of 'Hub' Received Thursday

The November issue of "The Hub" the Chamber of Commerce publication, was in the mail the last day of the month and received by Chamber members on Thursday morning.

The issue carries the story of Pittsburgh Corning Corporation, manufacturer of Foamlas, a unique insulating material which is shipped all over the United States, Canada and far countries, from its beginning in Sedalia 20 years ago, and its steady growth through the years.

There are also stories on the fall membership drive, the construction of the new Democrat-Capital building, a message from the president, Carl W. Yates, Jr., an editorial by William C. Hopkins, a story on Harlan Snow compiling history of antique fire engines, an industrial report and other interesting items.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Romama's President Chivu Stoica and his wife will pay an official state visit to Ethiopia next week at the invitation of Emperor Haile Selassie, the Ethiopian news agency reported.

A hit-and-run accident was reported on the parking lot of the Montgomery Ward store, in the 200 block of West Fourth at 3:13 p.m. Thursday.

A 1966 Buick, parked on the lot by Betty Louise Long, 1819 South Warren, was struck in the left front by an unknown vehicle.

Police are investigating.

FCC Appeals To Parents About Toys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission, concerned over what is becoming an annual Christmas clutter on the airways, appealed Thursday to parents to buy only approved, low power two-way radios for youngsters.

The FCC urged caution, in the purchase of the walkie-talkies as presents because "their use may be in violation of federal law."

The commission said purchasers should be certain that the walkie-talkies they buy for youngsters bear certificates which state that no operator's license is needed.

Such certificates are found only on extremely low-power sets. The FCC defines this as less than 10 milliwatts — a power capable of transmitting radio signals as much as a mile. Higher power sets require licenses.

Behind the FCC notice is a rueful memory of last Christmas when hundreds of thousands of walkie-talkies were purchased and commission field offices were kept busy for weeks investigating complaints of interference.

Nearly all the walkie-talkies are made in Japan and they sell from anywhere from $5 to $100.

Indications are that this year there will be more such two-way radios than ever before. Japan Finance Ministry figures show that 4,491,253 transmitter-receivers, including walkie-talkies, were imported into the United States during the first nine months of this year. Total value is $25,827,996.

For the same period last year 1,888,325 of the radios worth $16,176,793 were imported.

The figures show much greater volume and considerably lower cost per unit.

Long Fight Over Water Is Ended

PINEVILLE, Mo. (AP) — That long battle over water in the Haverhurst community near here is over.

Concerned were some two dozen householders in the Pineville suburb and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McClure who had been supplying the community's water system from their artesian well.

Juvenile Not Required To Take Chem Test

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Atty. Gen. Norman H. Anderson ruled Thursday a juvenile arrested for suspected drunken driving is not required to take the chemical test required of adult drivers.

Instead the juvenile—a person under 17 — must be taken immediately before the juvenile court or to the juvenile officer.

Anderson said the juvenile court has exclusive jurisdiction on suspending or revoking a juvenile driver's license.

The opinion was requested by Lawrence F. Geppard, Jackson County prosecuting attorney.

In other opinions the attorney general held:

It is a violation of the conflict of interest law for a school board member to work for a private contractor as a school bus driver.

Coroners in outstate counties have no authority to order funeral directors not to mutilate or embalm a dead body until they are notified. Only in St. Louis and Jackson counties and the City of St. Louis is it required that the coroner be notified of the presence of a dead body.

Corn Leads General Advance In Trading

CHICAGO (AP) — Corn led a general advance in the grain futures market on the Chicago Board of Trade Thursday, moving forward up to four cents a bushel.

Local and commission house buying featured the corn advance.

Floor sources said that possibly the fact that deliveries of corn slumped a little may have influenced some traders to evaluate their operations. Commercial houses were not very active in corn dealings.

Soybeans were mostly strong with the greatest activity in the nearby January contract. This contract reached 3.00 1/4, then drifted downward.

Wheat advanced 2 1/2 cents before longs sold and the market eased.

Wheat closed 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents a bushel higher, December $1.78 1/2; corn was 2 1/4 to 4 cents higher, December $1.43 1/4-44, oats were 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher, December 75 1/2 to 76 1/2; soybeans were 1 1/2 to 2 cents higher, January $2.99 1/4-98 1/4.
